Want to know what staff were reading on vacation and by the pool? Glad you asked! This summer we were busy little readers and Amy Garrett, Head of Information Services, compiled a list of our most popular books. The top three titles were One Perfect Lie by Lisa Scottoline, Lost and Found Sisters by Jill Shalvis and Wonder Woman: Warbringer by Leigh Bardugo. Other titles include The Tea Girl of Hummingbird Lane, Camino Island, and It’s Always the Husband. We will reveal the rest of the titles on page 8 of this edition of FinePRINT.

The official commemorative day to celebrate grandparents is Sunday, September 10. In honor of this special day, we decided to feature two vintage photographs of grandparents in this issue of FinePRINT, along with commentary from our staff members, Lisa Maruna and Jason Calvert. They both have interesting stories to tell and we enjoyed reading them as we hope you do too. When we saw Jason’s grandfather, we were all astonished at the resemblance!

This photo is of my paternal grandparents, Russell and Margareta Calvert. Taken circa 1937, this photo is early in my grandparents’ courtship. They would go on to get married and settle in Mentor, Ohio. There, they raised 5 children and, as was indicative of the time, struggled to support themselves as wartime had taken its toll. Russell worked many jobs including milkman and machinist before eventually finding gainful employment at TRW Automotive. Margareta had her hands full maintaining a healthy and lively household throughout the 40’s and 50’s.

Their children, Jack, Ted, Russell Jr., Jim and Martha would all go on to raise families of their own while pursuing careers in such fields as management, communications, sales, and education. My own father would go on to teach the sciences at the high school level.

Sadly, the family patriarch, Russell Sr. died in 1993 of complications from diabetes. He would have been 103 this year. I fondly remember my grandfather, who was the one to give me my first 2 wheel bike at the age of 6. Happily, however, Margareta is still going strong in her family’s hometown of Mentor at the age of 97! Having survived the loss of her husband, first born son, Jack, as well as her first grandchild Stevie, she’s still in great spirits and as sharp as a tack. Margareta enjoys conversations with new friends that she makes on a daily basis, talking proudly of her 6 grandchildren and 8 great-grandchildren. She also is a great lover of songbirds, including the gorgeously red-plumed cardinal that widely inhabits the woods of Mentor. This photograph resonated with me because it caused me to see my grandparents not as “Grandma and Grandpa” but as people, once young like me and filled with dreams of a future yet to be written.

—Jason Calvert, Maintenance Associate

This photo shows my maternal grandparents on their first “date”, surrounded by their parents and relatives. From war-torn Italy to America, these humble, hard-working, faith-filled people built a new life for themselves and their family in Ohio. They loved the “old country” with all their heart, but were so proud to be Americans. My grandfather will turn 94 this month, and he still acts like that handsome 20-something year old on the hillside, raising a glass to life!

—Lisa Maruna, Marketing & PR Coordinator
EBooks enable you to take the stories you love with you anytime, anywhere. All you need to be connected to a world of literature is a smartphone, tablet, or computer. Enjoy your favorite authors whether you’re staying at home or commuting to work. To celebrate digital reading, Overdrive is hosting its annual Read an eBook Day on September 18. If you’ve never tried reading an eBook before, this would be the perfect time to try it! Borrow one of your favorite books or something new and discover the joys of digital reading. Need help starting up eBooks on your device? We offer one-on-one Tech Help on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1 - 5 PM, plus the first and third Tuesday and the second and fourth Thursday of the month from 7 - 8:30 PM.

Touch a Truck
Sat., September 16, 10 AM - 12 PM: This year attendees can see and experience a Stow fire truck, police car, ambulance and several construction vehicles. Additionally, we will host the Greater Akron Humane Society Mobile Adoption Center, the Cleveland Museum of Art Studio Go mobile art studio, a flame-decorated pickup truck from Mickey Thompson Tire, a moving van from Two Men and a Truck, and other great vehicles. We will have free balloon twisting and face painting, and Handel's will sell ice cream as well. No registration required.

NASA STEAM Program
Sat., September 16, 1 PM: Children 9-12, sign up beginning September 5 in person or by calling (330) 688-3295 ext. 5 for this exciting STEAM program about biomimicry! Speakers from NASA Glenn Research Center will be teaching about biomimicry and how they are using it at NASA. Children will learn the process of how science mimics nature. There will be lots of hands on learning activities after the short presentation. Parents are welcome to sit in and learn with their children.

Grandparents' Day Story Program
Sat., September 9, 10:30 AM: Help us celebrate Grandparents Day on Saturday, September 9 at 10:30 AM. We'll share a story about grandparents and read a book grandparents might remember from when THEY were little! We'll sing and play, have a snack and make a gift your grandparents will love. This is a special Story Time for children ages 2 & up accompanied by a parent or grandparent. Registration begins on Saturday, August 26, in person in the Children's Room or by calling (330) 688-3295 ext. 5.
