Way Back When

by Frank Green

EARLY THANKSGIVING

I don't remember any special one. At home when I was a boy we always had Thanksgiving at Grandpa Stow's. Their wedding anniversary was November 23. We didn't raise turkeys and it was unthinkable for us thrifty Yankees to buy one, so it was chicken with pumpkin and mince pies. Cour pumpkins and the mince pies made from my mother's delicious mince meat, which was made from golden sweet apples or maybe sometimes from gresy pippens and home butchered beef. Father said mother put everything but the dishrag into her mince pies.

The making of the mince meat was an annual job at which the whole family worked. The apples and meat were chopped fine (I mean fine) in wooden bowls. — Thanksgiving services at the church (only one) at the Corners, was on Thanksgiving morning.

My father often preached the sermon. Of course we all were reminded to be grateful for our many blessings. I recall this story from one of his talks:

It was in rhyme. I can't remember just how it went but a stingy deacon in a country church had a very fine crop of potatoes that fall but he still groused because they bugs got a few of them. The deacon was arrogant and lengthy in prayer and decided others when they failed to attend services regularly, as he did.

There was a poor widow who belonged to the church. She failed to come for a Sunday or two. The deacon called on her and when she failed to give a reason for her absence, he got down on his knees and made one of his best prayers. But often as he prayed she kept saying "Oh give to the hungry potatoes."

Finally the deacon jumped up, hurried home and brought her "a bushel or more of his very best potatoes."

"Now", said the deacon, "shall we pray."

"Yes," said the widow. "Now you may pray."

STO-KENT LANES CRAMMED AT OPENING

Stow responded to the Sto-Kent Bowling Lanes' Grand Opening in the grand manner last Friday night. The lanes were wall-to-wall with people — bowlers, well-wishers, and sightseers.

Guests of the management at dinner in the "300" Room were members of the Stow Police and Fire Departments, Mayor Charles Montelth, Betty Thompson, Village clerk and Council members, as well as Vic Phillips, president of Ohio Bowling Proprietors Association, Harry Krause, vice president, and Glenn Tyner, secretary of North Summit Bowling Association.

Mayor Charles Montelth cut the ribbon signifying the formal opening of the lanes, and then picked up a bowling ball for the first time in his life. He rolled it down the lane, knocking down the 7 pin, thus avoiding the dreaded gutter ball.

Stow Firemen and Policemen took over two lanes in an exhibition tourney filled with good natured joshing, after the visiting guests and local officials and the owners all were introduced to say a few words by Glenn Tyner, jovial Master of Ceremonies. (Police won by approximately 300 pins!) The grand drawing of free prizes began at 10 p.m., with young David Dillehunt and David Watkins pulling names of the winners from the box.

Bowling continued till 3:30 a.m., when the crowd finally decided to call it a day. Consensus of opinion was that we had a beautiful new recreational facility.

Below: Visiting dignitaries relax a moment after dinner in the "300" Room.

A revised traffic code was put into effect November 12, which will be easier to work with and more in line with the state code. It was a job to get it into effect, since it took three ordinances, read in their entirety to do it.

In lieu of the regular meeting which would normally be held on November 26th, Thanksgiving Day, Council elected to meet a week early, November 19th. A good deal of this meeting was used to study legal and engineering work formerly done on sanitatory sewers in Renee Estates.
The original petition was in error and therefore a new petition will be presented, the passing of Ordinance No. 1595-103
which was passed entitled:
AN ORDINANCE creating,
describing the lands included in and comprising the sewer district designated as Lake Renee sanitary improvement
No. 80 sewer district, and declaring an emergency will get the legal and engineering work correctly underway.

Since one of the police cars was wrecked, the Police Department has found itself "short-carried" until bids could be taken for a new police car. In the meantime Captain Harper converted his personal automobile. For this reason council passed a resolution fixing compensation, at the rate of seven cents per mile to be paid to Ronald Harper, Captain of Police, during such time he uses his personal automobile in performance of police duties for the municipality, together with gasoline from the municipal gas tank.

A single subject council meeting will be held November 29th at 8 p.m. to decide the best bidder on the police car.

In the November 19th meeting Mr. Bokodeck from the Tri-County Planning Committee explained their plan for $20 to be accomplished in three phases which the Planning Commission has recommended to Council.
Phase A, which would take approximately nine months work, would cost $6,600.00. The Councilmen decided to study the different phases in Phase A and make a decision in their first meeting in December as to whether to spend this sum of money this year.

ANNUAL FALL FAIR
Saturday, November 14, from 2 till 8, the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Monroe Falls Methodist Church held their annual Fall Fair, at the Monroe Falls Town Hall. General Chairman for the affair was Mrs. George Mayer. All proceeds went into the Church Building Fund. Booths featuring needlework, white elephants, table arrangements, baked goods, fish ponds, and toys, were among those enjoyed by all who attended. A cafeteria style supper was served from 4 till 7. Assisting the chairman were Mrs. Ford Grubb, Mrs. E. J. Spiegel, Mrs. Walter Belcher, Mrs. Snowdon Kline, Mrs. Herbert Lauer, Mrs. Russell Richards, Mrs. Harvey Burton, Mrs. Charles Cockerill, Mrs. Ernest Green, Mrs. David Miller, Mrs. William Shakespeare, Mrs. Santa Oder, and Mrs. Earl Wilson. The Methodist Youth Fellowship had booths featuring candied apples, popcorn balls, soft drinks, homemade candies and ceramics.

St. Stephen's Lutheran Church held a square dance at Chestnut Lodge, Adell Durbin Park, Friday, Nov. 20, 1959. Bill Wright called the dance.

Terry Talks of High

by Terry McIntyre

Sunday night after C.Y.F., at the First Christian Church, the group went to Linda Beeze's home for a sort of "Goof-off" party. Before the evening was over, they found themselves creating their own sundae. I hear there were some real artists in the crowd and then again some real sloopy people. Nevertheless, they all turned out yummy.

"I'm a good thing the teachers had their annual Workshop Day, Monday, November 16, because a certain group of Junior girls may not have made it to school. It seems there was a party Sunday night at Carol Brandon's home. They ate, danced, ate, played cards, and ate again. Afterwards, the girls stayed for a Slumber Party and everyone is still recovering."

That evening, Linda Anderson opened her home for a Future Teachers meeting. This month's speaker was Mr. Coleman, principal of Woodland Grade School. I'm sure some of his enthusiasm rubbed off on the students. Delicious pumpkin pie added the final touch to the meeting.

RIVERVIEW P.T.A. BEAR JIM SCHLEMMER

A very good turnout heard Jim Schlummer Sports writer for the Akron Beacon Journal, when he appeared on the program at the November meeting of the Riverview School P.T.A., Monday, November 16.
Mrs. Calvin Moore, the former Lilian Bregé, flew to Stuttgart, Germany, on Saturday, November 14 and arrived 15th. Her husband Pfc. Calvin Moore is with the Army Air Force and will remain in Germany until August 1961.

Don Caracciolo, 1225 Mac Dr., and husband of Meryl Canovan, Police Secretary, is in Akron General Hospital with a ruptured appendix.

James Mullins, the injured Swallow Policeman, is now home and doing well after a serious operation which inserted a piece of steel into his leg. He is probably mighty glad to be there.

MUNROE FALLS PIPE-LINE
Mr. and Mrs. Carl Donaldson, Munroe Falls Avenue, have returned to the Village, after a three week vacation.

Mr. Stanley Messersmith is spending two weeks visiting her parents in Reading, Pennsylvania.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Dove, South River Road, was Mr. and Mrs. Fred Golden, and sister and three children, from Indianapolis, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. David Miller journeyed to Indiana, for the week-end to celebrate their twenty-ninth wedding anniversary. The Millers are the very proud parents of seven children and six grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael кожви, Highland Avenue, celebrated their twenty-fifth anniversary, November 24. They celebrated at Niagara Falls, New York. Mike and Kay have seven children, and five grandchildren. It was a double celebration as Mr. Kunzler also observed her birthday November 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe McCue, South Main Street, left the Village, November 9, to spend the winter vacationing at St. Cloud, Florida.

Mrs. Snowden Kline is home, after accompanying her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Cundiff, to their new home, in Warsaw, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Kelly, from Rochester, Michigan, were recent-week-end guests at the home of the Roland Tickhills.

The Charing Cross Garden Club met last night at the home of Mrs. Walter Birdsall, 3450 Charing Cross Drive. Co-hostess was Mrs. Bob Nus. Rutten's call consisted of identifying Christmas decorations, while the program was a contest of making wreaths from materials furnished by the members.

Stow Junior Mothers Club is collecting new and old toys, books, puzzles, games, etc., for Christmas at Children's Home.

Maplewood Park Garden Club elected new officers Nov. 19. New president will be Mrs. James Hall, vice president, Mrs. Ed Montgomery, secretary, Mrs. James Ess, and treasurer, Mrs. Leroy Hadler. Installation will be Dec. 7.

The club plans to furnish a needy family with a complete dinner plus dishes, glasses, and clothing for the children.

Stow group of the Ohio Highway Patrol Auxiliary held a special meeting Thursday November 19, 1950 at the residence of Don Mauck, Kent Rd., Stow. Election of Officers was held and plans for the annual banquet to be in December were the topics of the meeting.

WHAT'S BEEN GOING ON HERE?

Fund-Raising for Fire-Fighters

The last in a series of eight Turkey Shoots were held at the Monroe Falls Fire Station on Sunday, November 22. Shoots have been held from October 4, with proceeds going to purchase fire-fighting equipment. The Monroe Falls fire-fighters are unusual in that they are a completely private fire company and have been doing their blazes there since 1947.

The department wishes to thank everyone who has attended to make the shoots this year such a huge success. Total figures are not yet available, but the gross on the last day approximated $345.

Carlos Reger, a sixth grade student at Woodland school, was a consistent winner in the Turkey Shoots. Carlos is 13 years old and lives at 3975 Klein Ave. In Stow.

Mrs. Robert Westfall, Stow Press circulation manager, receives Don Packard's collection of subscription payments as Dana Butler and Patty Herman look on. The Junior class of Stow High is extending its sales campaign until Saturday to be sure no home is missed.

Tchi Tchi!

Stow Village Council evidently did the village policemen a favor by not passing the "NO HUNTING" ordinance, for six regular and special policemen covered a large farm in this area ready for birds. However, a little target practice may be in order. Among all six, one and one-half birds were the total result.

Recruit Maplewood Men

Maplewood Park Mens Club is putting on an active campaign for additional members. The club was formed as a service group to maintain and improve the Maplewood recreation area. Since its inception the ideals have been broadened to include social and recreational activities.

On the immediate agenda are winter sports. Projects for the future include card games, dancing, mixed doubles bowling, soft ball, golf, swimming parties, and doughnuts and bleachers for the ball field.

Past achievements of the Mens Club are a Recreation Area maintenance program, a bulletin board for the clubhouse, a scuba diving demonstration, a junior swim meet for all Maplewood Park children, a men's bowling league, a bicycle rack for the clubhouse, and completed plans for an adult party on December 12. Ice skating provisions have been made for this winter.

As the clubhouse had no water or heat for this winter, Mr. Botzle, the developer of the area, has donated the use of a model home on Linwood Ave. for the men's meetings. Next meeting will be Wednesday, Nov. 25, (tonight), at 7:30.

Any resident of Maplewood Park is welcome — even urged — to join this club, Questions may be directed to James Scott, O.V. -5730, or to any of the Steering Committee's members: Don Breed, Jim Shaw, Bruce Cobbs, Bill Diabone, or Wendell Horrigan.

Membership fee is $1.00 per year, and 254 dues are charged at each meeting to cover refreshment costs. Membership funds go into the recreation area.

NEW ENTRANCE FOR STOW PHARMACY.

Stow Pharmacy is going through remodeling pangs, but the results will be worth the trouble. The new entrance will have a flagstone floor, stone walls, and planters on each side of the door, and larger windows to the height of the room.

I.O. Palmer & Sons are the contractors.
