Council Hits Fire Hazards

Irate citizens concerned over the unsightly and fire hazardous areas in Stow may find these particular areas cleaned up soon.

Council, at their Aug. 4 meeting, discussed the situation at the intersection of Lillian Rd. and Rt. 91. Here, there are two house trailers, one with a shack type dwelling attached, a vacant house and a small frame building where church services are being held. The residence of George Good on Echo Rd. was also discussed. Councilman Lawrence Salits said Council was being too lenient with the owners of these properties. "Mr. Hale (Joseph Hale, Building and Zoning and Public Service Director) should go to see them once, possibly twice and then someone ought to be clipped," Salits said.

Fire Chief Ralph Saxe has been issued legal forms to serve on these property owners ordering them to remedy or remove all hazards on their property. Council pointed out that this action is in compliance with Ordinance 1960-48 which establishes the Department of Fire Prevention. In particular they stressed section IV, paragraph 3 of the ordinance.

This section states that when a building or structure is liable to fire because of need of repairs, or age, or dilapidated condition, and when it endangers adjacent properties or its own occupants, the fire prevention inspector shall have the power to order such conditions repaired or removed.

Footballers To Meet

Stow High's new football mentor Richard Fortner will hold a meeting for prospective football players Aug. 15. Physical examinations will be made of ninth through 12th graders in the High School gym.

Coach Fortner wishes for those reading this notice to "pass the word along." He doesn't have the players' addresses.

M. J. Sandercox proudly displays his manager of the month plaque presented him by the Lawson Co.

M. J. Sandercox
Gets Lawson Award

M. J. Sandercox, a Stow resident, was named Lawson Company's most outstanding store manager for the month of June recently.

Sandercox was picked from a field of 235 store managers. He received a plaque, an engraved wallet containing a ten dollar bill and had his name engraved on a permanent plaque kept at the Lawson Co. main office.

At his Cuyahoga Falls store on Bailey Rd., Sandercox topped all other managers in sales, customer relations, expense control, inventory, store appearance and display and other phases of store management to win the award.

Sandercox started at Lawsons 14 years ago. Then, nine years ago Lawson's built a new store on Bailey Rd. and took Sandercox off his route to manage it. He has since been the local manager of the company.

Sandercox for 29 years, Sandercox lives at 3665 Fish Creek Rd.

CHURCH GETS GUESTS

Dr. J. William Lee, of Oberlin College of Theology, will be guest preacher at Stow Community Church August 14 and 28. The Rev. Charles H. Cobbett will preach August 21.

DUMMY Didn't Stay Put

SCUBA Team Recovers 'Body'

A headless, lifesize dummy planted in the depths of Crystal Lake by Stow Firemen Aug. 5 hardly got waterlogged as the Firemen's body recovery team brought it to the surface after a short search.

This was a drill in using Self Contained Underwater Breathing Apparatus (SCUBA) to recover drowned bodies.

It took only 31 minutes from the time Firemen David Dally, David McMillian and Russ Savage received a call at the firehouse that a person had jumped off Crystal Lake diving board and had not been seen again, until they recovered the "body."

This headless dummy was transported to the area, donning their SCUBA gear and making the search.

Fireman Dally found the body floating beneath the water's surface 65 ft. from the end of the diving board. Before this the three men had been swimming under the water making nine foot sweeps across a 35 ft. area where the body should have been.

Savage pointed out that a drowned body will normally stay on the bottom, and be within 35 feet of where it entered the water. But the dummy drifted away from where it had been planted.

Mrs. Grohe, 1237 Chestnut Dr., Meadowbrook Lake, who suffers a lung ailment, had an oil hot water heater explosion in her home Aug. 2 which knocked her across the room and burned her severely about the face. Firemen not only gave her oxygen, but also found her regular heart medicine in the house and administered that, earning her profound gratitude.

STORK CLUB

Three children will have playmates when they're old enough to romp outside...they'll be able to have joint birthday parties...probably even ride the school bus together...maybe be in the same schoolroom. They were all born within a few days of each other and live either across the street or "just up at the corner." They are: Stephen Lee, 6 lb., 10 oz., son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wiley, 4721 Montrose Dr., born July 26; Sharon Lynn, 9 lb., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Heame, 1518 Hibbard Dr., born July 27; and Phillip Blair, 7 lb., 2 1/2 oz., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Webb, 1512 Hibbard Dr., born July 30.

Incidentally, Stephen's and Sharon's mothers shared a room at the hospital when the babies were born.

A little girl who had left her teddy bear in the terminal building at Cleveland Airport held up the flight Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wise took to Miami a few days ago. The child refused to board the plane without her beloved, and warmhearted personnel and passengers waited amiably. Wises were off to see their daughter, Sandy, who is a stewardess, based in Miami.

Garden Party Held

A garden party and millinery show will be held Saturday, Aug. 13, on the lawn of Mrs. Carl F. Brandfass, 3211 Dover Rd., Silver Lake. It is sponsored by the Women's Medical Auxiliary of Akron. Models will wear hats from Madison's of Akron.

J.L. Watkins, Bride Go To Africa

In London by now, and bound soon for Lagos, North Nigeria, are Mr. & Mrs. John L. Watkins, married July 30. Mrs. Watkins is the former Bonnie Brooke Marhof-er, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. John F. Marhofer, 3733 Elm Rd. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Robert Crooker, Long Island, and John B. Watkins, North Salem, N. Y. Following the ceremony held in Christ Church Episcopal, Hudson, performed by Rev. Arthur Prichett, 150 guests gathered on the lawn of the Marhofer resi- dence for the outdoor reception. The bride wore an ivory taffe-ta gown and a fingertip antique ivory lace veil. She carried a cascade of white rubrum illies and green ivy.

Mrs. John Taylor of Syosset, L. I., was matron of honor, Barbara Fill of Ridgefield Park, N. J., and Abby Watkins, the bridegroom's sister in law, were attendants.

Best man was John Hadden, Cold Spring Harbor, L. I., ushers were Dana Young, Francis Trustlow, Norman Kloppe and John Marhofer, the bride's brother.

Pre-wedding parties included a picnic supper given by Mary Sheek at her cottage on East Reservoir; the bachelor dinner held in Sharon, Pa., by Noman Kloppe; a buffet luncheon for Mr. Watkins' family given by Mrs. Marhofer July 28. Mr. & Mrs. James O'Grady, Mr. Watkins' aunt and uncle, came from New Orleans to give the rehearsal dinner for the wedding party at the Smorgasbord July 29.

Other guests arrived from New York, Washington, and Pennsyl¬vania, while the best man came to Stow from California to be in the wedding.

The bride was recently graduated from the Department of Nursing, at Columbia University. The groom graduated from Yale University.

Mr. Watkins will be associated with the Northern Nigerian government as education officer.

Mr. and Mrs. William Biggins, 3792 Leewood Dr., enjoyed two weeks of swimming, water skiing and other outdoor fun with their four children when they recently vacationed at a private lodge on Sparrow Lake, Canada. Mr. and Mrs. James (Jim) Grif¬fith and their three children, all of Gorge Park Blvd., spent a week on the shore of Lake Erie.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wahl, 3776 Northview Dr., joined four other couples to spend an enjoyable week in a cottage at Beaver Lake, Mich., after Mrs. Wahl spent three days in Detroit visiting her sister, Grace.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mauck, 3479 Kent Rd., recently returned from touring the New England states and parts of Canada. They are now planning a trip to Pennsyl¬vania to visit relatives and friends.

M/Sgt. Willis Pea, His wife, the former Lola Arlene Bowen, and their son ended a four week vacation in and around Stow Aug. 2.

They stayed with Mr. Pea's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bo¬wen at 3733 Elm Rd., Stow, and also visited Mr. Pea's parents in Hudson.

They have now returned to Seymour Johnson Air Base at Goldsboro, N.C., where M/Sgt. Pea is stationed.

Rezoning (cont. from p. 11)ment concerning special interests. No one in this body has any interest other than what's best for Stow." Industry isn't interested in this section of land, Rapport contended, because a one foot "spite strip" along its southern border cuts it off from road frontage. He also claimed that the land, which lent itself to being residential, would be stolen if rezoned for industry.

When Rapport asked Council why they insisted on rezoning the land for industry, Shuman replied that "when rezoned the land would service residents and have sufficient industrial area. The question is, should we acquire it in a remote area or expand where we already are," Shuman said.

"This was the only first reading of this zoning amendment and has no legal significance," Shuman added. "It merely places it before the public."

The matter referred to Planning Commission and will have a public hearing at 7:30, Sept. 8 in Village Hall.

Council adopted a new platting ordinance establishing rules, regulations and standards and specifications for the subdivision of lands after a public hearing August 4.

This nullifies the old platting ordinance.
