Fr. Shimalonis Assists At Holy Family

by Kathy Martin

Parishioners at the Holy Family Church are gradually becoming acquainted with Father Albert L. Shimalonis, newly ordained into the priesthood May 28, 1960, and assigned to this parish as assistant pastor on June 21.

Father Shimalonis was born in Rosset, Pa., entered Kirk Junior High when his family (four brothers and six sisters) moved to East Cleveland. He graduated from Shaw High School, studied four years at St. Gregory’s Seminary in Cincinnati, two years of philosophy at Norreco Seminary in Wickliffe, and four years of theology at St. Mary’s, Cleveland.

It was during high school days that Father Shimalonis made the decision to become a priest. Here at Holy Family he is happy to be supervising youth activity, having served as director of Camp Santa Maria in Akron for six summers.

Participating in all sports has been an enjoyable hobby, as well as an interest in art. He studied two years at Cleveland Art Institute. He finds relaxation in painting and sketching as he does in the enjoyment of classical music, both in the form of an opportunity to attend the fine musical programs and operas staged in the Cleveland area during the year.

Father Shimalonis, as a student at St. Mary’s, sang in the choir which was under the direction of Father Archibald, but never dreamed at the time that his first appointment would be in a parish near home with Father Archibald as pastor.

The only way to tell Father Shimalonis from the teen-age boys at Holy Family’s Youth Center is by his black suit and Roman collar, as those years of study have left noteh-tall marks on his youthful appearance.

Way Back When

by Frank Green

Part IV of Stow’s History

For many, many years Stow Township was a sleepy community. Its social life centered around the Church and The Tavern at The Corners. Eventually the good people of Stow got rid of the nuisance tavern. Most of us went to church Sundays and to the occasional church socials but it took a lively political caucus or election to get all of us out. The population of Stow changed little for many years.

Mr. Hane in his history of Summit County gives these figures for growth: in 1840 it was 1533. This included the sections of Cuyahoga Falls and the then lively little town of Monroe Falls. Some 40 years later it was only 911. In 1890 there were 936. I have no statistics for 1900 but I am sure there was little growth.

During all these years Stow was a very quiet farming community. Dairying was its most important business. The cheese factories gave a market for milk until about 1895. When Mr. Strait sold his factory we lost our market.

Sorry - Wrong Number

Telephone Confuses, Angers Reporter

by Bob Golden

I have to depend on it, but I can't. It won't let me. Even now it hangs coyly on the wall waiting to confuse and anger me. And I know the next time I use it I'll be reduced to a series of frustrated howls. It denies me the ability to master the complexities of my telephone.

It persists in giving me the wrong number - three or four times in a row. By the fourth time the party at the other end of the line answers my hello, screaming, "Don't you understand? You've got the wrong number! Wadareya, a wise guy?"

"Excuse me," I say, "You see, this telephone doesn't..."

Suddenly it dials the wrong number and nothing happens. I get very cross and swear at all the numbers. I take a marker, sign each letter and number a couple inches high and paste it oh the wall beside the telephone. Thus girded, I slowly dial the number. There is a silent pause when I've finished, and then a shrill blast that wakes the entire body is going to answer because the telephone has goofed again.

I sneer at myself and the embarrassed body goes to answer the telephone and smash the receiver back in its cradle. That's just before I go next door where the same thing happens with their telephone.

Telephone exchanges containing the letter O bring more lunacy. I dial a number and the operator answers telling me to be particularly careful not to confuse the letter O with the numeral 0. "Thank you," I say, "I'm extremely careful to avoid that," but they don't believe me, I actually have to convince them. They don't understand 'it's the telephone...not me.'

The other day I caught myself thinking a record for telling me - very nicely and with a beautifully modulated voice - the number I wanted was no longer in existence. It also seemed to insinuate I wasn't capable of operating a telephone.

Later, a voice told me to straighten out my problem by contacting information. I told it stories from my childhood, but, if kept insisting. Eventually I ended up shouting, "I don't have a phone with you; you're nothing but a record." And it continued soothingly to me concerning information.

What I need is a new telephone, or a flock of pigeons, or maybe a telephone repairman to live in.

Oh, maybe I'll just go home and wait for people to get in touch with me.

Altar, Rosary To Meet

A special meeting to plan the program for this September Altar and Rosary Society meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Ralph Herman, Oak Rd., Friday, August 19. Mrs. A. J. Alexander, program chairman, is calling the program "Silver Dollar Cafe!"

DID YOU KNOW?

Last year, the US supported VISITING NURSE made 1,662 calls to the aged and infirm patients in STOW!

Headed the 1960 United Fund drive in Stow are Stowites Mrs. J. C. Whalen, 3770 Kent Rd.; Mrs. E. A. Gleason, 4160 Darrow Rd.; and Lester D. Sharp, 1940 Echo Rd.

This once-a-year appeal provides the minimum operating needs for 48 Summit County human service agencies.

"This goal presents a definite challenge," said Nestor Mitchell, 1960 campaign chairman. "The success of our efforts this fall will depend on an overwhelming endorsement and teamwork by the residents and workers of Summit County."

Nursery In 20th Year

Twin Lakes Nursery School opens its twentieth season this fall under the guidance of Mrs. Ronald Pfeiffer at 1472 South Blvd., Twins Lake.

The school has expanded its transportation service to include Stow this year, so it is a 10-15 minute ride from here to Twin Lakes.

Mrs. Pfeiffer will be assisted by Mrs. Bill Nash, Mrs. Arthur Wallach and Mrs. Frances Chastain.

They will accept 35-40 children from 2 to 5 days a week. Children go on field trips such as seeing the zoo, post office, fire station, etc., as well as do regular suitable activities. Optional are weekly dance lessons by Helene Beer.
Frank Green (Cont. from P. 1) because I had to peddle my mother's butter in Kent.)

On Nov. 11, 1896, The Slow Elgin Butter and Ice Cream Co., a local concern, was organized. It gave a market for milk from then until Jan. 16, 1915.

I have not the date when Arthur Wetmore started his shop at The Corners, but it was a dependable source for many of our wants for a long time. If Art didn't have it.....he would get it.

Before, I said that the church was the main source of our social life and so it was for many years. Ralph Lodge bought Slow Pond Jan. 5, 1874. It was quite a while after that before it became known as a lovely and popular pleasure resort. It was sold in 1916. For more than 30 years Silver Lake was Slow's best advertisement. A lot of us.....when we were known as young folks...learned to dance there. I could tell more about this but will not do so here.

In 1966 the Akron Automobile Club was organized and a serious effort was made to get us out of the dust and mud. In 1911 a paved road was started between Akron and Cleveland by way of Stow and Hudson. On June 12 a lot of the dirt from the road bed was dumped into my yard. That pavement was completed in 1913. Kent and Ravenna lines were also completed about that time. Telephone lines also came to Stow. The horse and buggy days were gone.

Business was good during the war years, 1915, '16, '17. High wages in Akron brought many new citizens and Stow was a popular suburb. Men here in Stow who had vision and courage bought farm land and made town lots of it. John and Henry Har¬hofer, Oakley Spaght and Leon and Perry Bixler were a few.

Outside capital came in too so that in a very short time many houses were built and occupied. The national depression started in 1919. Karl Gräwe, in his HISTORY OF SUMMIT COUNTY says there were 122 millionaires in Akron in 1920. Slow never suffered like the rest of the sur¬rounding communities but lost much of what it had gained.

This little story of our town has been carried some in past skates of WAY BACK WHEN. Sometime back in the 90's Josiah Strong, then the head of Western Reserve Academy in Hudson, wrote a book, OUR COUNTRY. In attempting to show the influence of early sett¬lers on the future growth of a community he compared Stow and Tall¬mage. Tallmage was founded by a minister, Rev. Mr. Bacon. Slow was founded by an Infidel, Joshua Stow. Up to the time that his book was written, Tallmage had had many college graduates; Slow, not a one. Nuf said.
We had a wonderful evening Saturday, August 6, when we joined six couples from Stow Players, Inc., to attend Canal Fulton's summer playhouse production of SEPTEMBER TIDE.

Enjoyed seeing Constance Bennett in the lead role, and were curious to try the least, about the whole show, for our own group presented this play here in Stow in April of last year.

The star stopped the show during an interval when she suddenly pointed to a huge moth fluttering down around the spotlight, and said, "What's that?" Her leading man casually answered, "Just a bug. They're everywhere." The audience was quite amused. We wondered if she enjoyed the open air and the country air.

Jim Scott, 4122 Osage Ave., is spending his summer evenings and vacation time building a two-car garage and driveway. We understand Mrs. Scott is official supervisor, while neighbor Dick Haugh, 2181 Ramona Ave., has been lending a helping hand (as have many generous neighbors), when not practicing a Little League team.

Happy to hear Mrs. Jack Dalton Adeline Dr. is feeling fine after a recent hospitalized week.

Rollet, Quebec, was the vacation spot enjoyed by the W. F. Croton family of 3659 Adeline Dr., recently. Teenagers danced, parents fished.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Higgins, 1264 Meadowbrook Blvd., stopped over in Slow, Vermont, while traveling through the New England states on an eight-day trip. They say there's a little theatre group there called "Slow Players" they didn't see a "Slow Press."

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Plitman of Northview Dr. entertained five couples Saturday, August 13. Guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harris, visiting from Minneaplis, the Long Islander, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Karas of Silver Springs Park celebrated their thirteenth wedding anniversary August 3. They recently took a day off - a busman's holiday - and made a trip to Cedar Point.

MUNROE FALLS TOWN HALL

Controversy has arisen within Village Council and Emanuel Sprigge, Village Building Inspector, on whether split-level homes built within village limits have a "living area" or just a basement beneath them.

The decision is important to the village because recently a new schedule of building permit fees has been passed based on how many square feet of "living area" a home contains.

A home building concern has recently applied for 33 permits to construct split-level homes. It contends the basement doesn't count as "living area." Both Village Solicitor John Wolfe and the building inspector have decided to the contrary. Any further controversy will be referred to the Village Planning Commission for study.

Athletics Tie Rockets But Lose Playoff

The Athletics squeaked by the Rockets 2-1 to tie them for League F first place in a thriller Aug. 9, but lost the playoff game Aug. 12, 10-5, to wind up the regular season in second place.

Riley struck out five and walked two to win the Aug. 9 game. He pitched a home run ball to Csonka which was the only Rocket score.

Dockery was the losing pitcher, giving up seven hits and two walks.

The one-game playoff saw Dockery redeem his Aug. 9 defeat. He received credit for the win and this time Riley was the loser.

The Rockets pounced on Riley and the Athletics for a 10-3 win in this game to give them undisputed ownership of first place.

Inman Leads Lakers Win

Inman, with a perfect day at the plate, led the Lakers in an 8-1 victory over the Indians. He hit three singles and a triple.

The batteries were: Willnot and Inman for the Lakers, and Gassie and Walters for the Indians.

ON YOUR OWN

We know a middle-aged woman living alone, who prepares a five-course meal for herself each evening and eats every scrap of it. There aren't many like her. Most people living alone dive on odds and ends.

When you eat alone at night, there's a great temptation to make do with a bowl of soup and some crackers, or toast and tea or something that's quick. But that kind of diet leads relentlessly to malnutrition. Weakness and baldness follow. In that state, you've a prime target for prowling germs.

An adequate diet includes all of the "Fundamental Four": 1. Milk and milk products such as cheese. 2. Meat, poultry, fish and eggs. 3. Vegetables and fruits—yellow vegetables such as turnips, carrots, squash; green vegetables such as peas, string beans; fruits of every kind. 4. Bread and cereals, enriched or whole grain.

Some people may be able to make good resolutions about eating properly—and stick to them. Or, if not, they can afford, having a guest for dinner two or three times a week is likely to boost your own food intake. Should you feel that neither of these will do the trick for you, you could get together with two or three other loners and rotate having dinner together at each other's homes. The arrangement can be varied by eating together in a restaurant one or two evenings a week or over the weekend. Then if you should find yourself eating alone one evening, no matter. You've dined well the rest of the week.
