There's Music Everywhere!
By Kathy Martin

How drab our world would be without music - a haunting tune can do so much to bring back the pleasant memory of a special person, date or time of year. Our world is a musical one, whether we realize it or not. Don't fret and worry about the modern trend in music today. There's enough variety in music to suit all of us and all of our moods. So you don't like rock 'n roll? A few years back, jazz was strictly for nothing, and did it ever survive? The best is definitely there in the music of today.

So the lyrics are below the mentality of most - that's beside the point. The music is contagious and the teens are drawn to it for the rhythmic beat. There's so much humor in "Alvin For President" and Steve Allen's "Impossible" (it is), I'll admit being concerned of late by the morbid lyrics to some of the hit tunes, but that problem is lessened when the industry itself comes out with a hit that counters the morbidity. Listen to the lyrics of "Let's Think About Living". They're great!

There's energy and exuberance in the fast rock 'n roll tunes. So they come and go?

I guess every village over the years acquires a few odd characters. We can hardly call them citizens.

When I was writing about the Darrow family back around 1930, I asked Ethel Talcott whether she knew John Darrow. He said he did not, but he did know a Ras Darrow.

John Darrow was not a member of the well known family for which the town and street are named. He lived for some time on the Fish Creek-Darrowville Pike. He was buried beside his wife and in 1985 John's body was placed there too.

That is about all I can tell you of the John Darrow who lived here in town for about 15 years. Now about Ras, who is the subject of this sketch. I quote Mr. Talcott.

"He was a noted character in our neighborhood. He was just an ordinary old tramp, traveling over the country begging his living from the farmers. He was a tough looking character. He wore a stubby red beard that covered nearly his whole face, old clothes with a string around his middle, with a battered dirty two-quart pail hung on it."

"In this pail he stored anything people chose to give him."

"I remember he used to come to our place every so often. He got his pail filled with milk or buttermilk and perhaps a loaf of bread."

"He stayed much of the time in a barn just west of Keri at the fork of the road. He went huckleberrying and brought home the berries in his boots."

Other people have told me of this strange character. He was good naturedly tolerated for some time. No one seems to know what ever became of him."

Local Impressions Of Fighting Irish

Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Utto of Stow and Mr. and Mrs. John Ruch of Munroe Falls traveled to South Bend, Indiana, on Saturday, Sept. 24, to see the football game between the bears of California and the Irish on Notre Dame. They were impressed.

As the California team took the field the students of Notre Dame unite in a chant of "Go Back to Disneyland - Go Back to Disneyland." Also the "Go-Go, Irish" chant could be heard many times during the game. The cheerleaders (all boys) kept the crowd enthused with their pyramid building, shoulder-stand and somersaults. When the public address announcer named the "Bears" starting line-up the N. D. fans yelled in unison "Who's He?" after each player was introduced. This was all done in a poor sportsmanship manner, but just to lend a humorous note and not "color" to the game.

At a point in the second quarter when the Bears were in second down position, deep in Irish territory, the cheering section let go with a constant roar, as each of Notre Dame. They were to drown out the signal calling of the Bears' quarterback and perhaps cause them to be thrown off because of the noise. The official promptly called time out and put up his hand in a half positional and waved to the crowd to be quiet. The students just as promptly stood and all waved back to the official, who couldn't help but smile. The Bears did score their only touchdown at this point however.

After the game was over, the Irish winning 21-7, not a person in the stands moved until the N. D. band, which also performed outstandingly at halftime, marched out on the field and played the Notre Dame Victory March with the students singing along.

The enthusiasm of the fans and cheerleaders, the performance of the teams and band, the handling of the crowd, the traffic patterns used to enter and leave the stadium all left a pleasing impression on all of us.

HIGH WAYS

by Terry Moore

If you weren't in the caravan to Kent Roosevelt, you missed a great amount of school spirit in the form of shouting, screaming and singing coming out of every car window. The cars were well decked in colored crepe paper. (If you happened to leave your wet crepe paper on the car over night, you'll find it doesn't come off too easily, does it?)

The car wash was simply marvelous! The GAA had a beautiful Saturday! The girls thank you for your cooperation and support!

The Pep Club is sponsoring every Monday night from now on, the movies of the previous Friday night's game. They start at 8 p.m. in the High School auditorium, Wayne Dercy, who just moved to Stow, from the Falls this summer, was elected president of this year's Pep Club. Good going! Kurt Koski is vice president, Terry Moore, secretary, and Linda Anderson was chosen treasurer.

Senior Class Play tryouts were last week. I'll give you the cast pretty soon. The play is sneaking up fast...it's in November.

The juniors are all excited! They got their class rings Tues., The FTA sold candy apples last week at noon.

Tomorrow (Friday) the Student Council, with Randy Morton as president, has arranged for the "Vikings" to come to perform for us. The assembly will be in the morning.

Don't miss the football game with Springfield tomorrow night. It's away, but don't let the team down. Keep up the mighty Bulldog spirit!

Next week be sure to tune in. We're going to have a big discussion on "The Football Team vs. the Student Body." PS...Don't miss out on the Homecoming Dance. Guys were starting to get their dates last Friday!
