Cross - Currents

by Robert Butler

One of the most exhausting political campaigns in history has drawn to a close. It was said to be exhausting for the candidates because of their rigorous travel schedules. But it was more than exhausting (perhaps the word is nauseating) for the voter who had to listen to and read about the "Issueless Issues" that swirled about during the campaign. Many individuals, struggling with the lack of logic, facts, and real differences, made a serious concerted effort to vote intelligently. But they were confronted with the fact that there were vast numbers who would be voting in much the same way as they chose a bar of soap or tube of toothpaste. Furthermore, they were confronted and overwhelmed with the knowledge that in many contexts, especially state and county races, numerous voters place an "X" on the spur of the moment, without any forethought or preparation. (Surveys have borne out this fact.) This is why a last season can be politically potent. (Consider "Taft" in Ohio.) These serious voters saw "Get Out and Vote" campaigns, with no mention of intelligent preparation, beckoning to those who had no business voting. All this, for mere statistical superiority. Finally, these voters were confronted with the realization that their votes would be cancelled, many times, by images created by public relations and advertising people. (Consider the "father image" of Eisenhower.)

Even though these individuals were faced with these insurmountable odds, that is the way they vote. For it is in terms of these dedicated voters that our system will some day be vindicated.

Trip Takes In Snake Charmers, Holy Land, Pyramids and Greece

(Cont. from last week)

The J. Sam Biedler family, on their "long way home" trip back to Stow from the Philippines, flew from Bangkok, Thailand, to Calcutta, India, on May 25.

They found India hot and dry, but the first day were driven by a pink turbaned driver of a blue station wagon over smooth roads for an all day visit to the Taj Mahal in Agra. With the help of an excellent guide they explored surrounding mosques, buildings and gardens. They were housed in a hotel built in 1631 by King Shah Jahan for his beautiful wife. They found it brilliant in its beauty, made of white dazzling marble, though very dark and most interesting inside.

After the visit to the Taj Mahal, the Biedlers stopped for cool refreshment and were fascinated by the traditional snake charmers, sitting cross-legged, wearing Indian garb of turban and flowing robe. His entire show depended largely on the number of ruppes one was willing to donate. For one coin the flute was happy to accompany the snake in a demure exhibition; more coins suggested a more active performance; for as much as five rupees, there would be a spine-tingling flight between the thick folds of the snake and the charmer.

They saw many wild green parrots, peacocks and parakeets while in India.

The trip to Karachi, Pakistan, a jet flight over desert wastelands and the Red Sea, beautifully blue Mediterranean Sea took them to Jerusalem.

JERUSALEM

THE HOLY LAND

Lights in the Holy Land were insipid. They visited Mt. Olives where Christ ascended into Heaven, the Garden of Gethsemane, and the cave of Christ's birth in Bethlehem. Hugh temples stood at each significant spot. They walked through narrow streets with walls of buildings on both sides.

To walk the streets of Jerusalem after dark, as Betty and Sam did for three hours, is to travel the street of time back to the ancient days of centuries long past. It was hard to imagine our modern world today in direct contrast to this civilization which has preserved so much of its age-old local color and tradition. Interesting to note was that the Arabs still live in black goatskin tents and in caves.

The countryside was quite picturesque as they traveled along the road to Bethlehem. As they spent three days in the Holy Land, the Biedlers were surprised at the lack of commercial activity contrary to reports they had heard about how very commercial the area had become.

A bitter feeling still prevails between the peoples of Jordan and Israel. Strong barbed wire fencing and stone walls divide the two countries, and bomb holes are evidence remaining from the war.

After many hours of sightseeing, they flew on over the Dead Sea, the Red Sea and the Suez Canal, from Lebanon to Cairo, Egypt, where a camel ride (cont. on p. 2)

Active Stow Folks Honored at 4-H Achievement Dinner

Many honors came to Stow 4-H leaders and members Saturday night when the Darrow Street Grange hosted an Achievement Dinner Program for area clubs, Stow- and Munroe Falls-ites honored for tenures as leaders were: Mrs. and Mr. Joe A. Mitten, 13 years; Mrs. R. H. Burdette, five years; Mr. and Mrs. William Watson, four years; Miss Dawne Butler, Mrs. Monroe Carpenter, Mrs. Jack Merrall, Mrs. Lawrence Ritchie, Mrs. Iris Steele, and Mrs. Arthur Yoder, two years.

Among clubs named Banner Clubs were Stow Honey Bees, Beauty Homemakers, Stow Mix Master, and Stow-Wins. Dawne Butler spoke to the gathering on "My Experience at Junior Leadership Camp," and Mary Alice Savory spoke on "My Experience at Ohio Club Congress."

Bob Benson, County Extension Agent in charge of 4-H, had the topic "What Makes 4-H Tick."

Stow Church Hosts Missionary Meeting

The second annual Missionary Conference, sponsored by the Stow Alliance Church, will be held on Sunday, Nov. 20, at Stow Alliance Church at the corner of Stow and Andale roads, starting at 2 p.m. and continuing through Sunday afternoon at 3:30. Eight missionaries will take part in the rally Sunday afternoon at 3:00. They will all appear in the costume relating to the tribe or nation in which they have been ministering.

A combined chair of 35 volunteers under the direction of Everett Prentiss will present the missionary drama "The Greatest Story Yet Untold."

Of special significance in these days in the nationalistic upsurge in the provinces of Africa, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Martin, will return from the new province, will have first hand information of the "why and wherefore" of the uprisings.

The public is invited to all services.

Dept. Store In Center?

A strong and persistent rumor has it that the J. C. Penny Co. will soon complete buildings in the Stow-Kent Shopping Center. An authoritative source told The Stow Press "Yes" has been signed yet, but the rumor has a healthy chance of coming true.
TOWN HALL

The Stow Development Co., developers of the Valley Forge Allotment, experienced another delay in their attempt to have their plat approved last Thursday, Nov. 10, at the regular Council meeting. It seems the Planning Commission and the Board of Zoning Appeals did not agree on what they want the developer to do. However, a special joint meeting was held between the two groups to iron out the problems Tuesday, Nov. 15.

In other action, Council approved a resolution by which a mapping error made four years ago was corrected. The Summit County Board of Commissioners was authorized to change the map to agree with the legal description of the land.

Council also authorized the Mayor to enter into a three-year contract with Silver Lake for mutual police protection and with Northampton for mutual fire protection.

Maplewood Park Garden Club will meet tonight (Nov. 17) at 8 p.m. in the club house where an election of officers will be held. Hostess for the meeting will be Mrs. Leroy Murdy, assisted by Mrs. Murray Dunmenco, Mrs. William Ryan and Mrs. William Selzer.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Everett Combs who will display a varied assortment of unusual Christmas decorations.

Highland Elementary School PTA is sponsoring a 'Popcorn' sale through the school. A $1.00 package holds three reusable refrigerator containers of popcorn. Mrs. Ben Kester and Mrs. John Pack, Ways and Means Committee, are in charge of the sale.

Slow Science Club (Project 38) will tour the Akron Municipal Airport under the supervision of Shorty Fulton, Friday, November 15. The membership of ten pupils of Highland Elementary School will be accompanied by several interested parents.

Through the combined efforts of Circle 18 and Circle 19 of Holy Family Parish, personal items, including clothing, magazines, talc, combs and soap have been collected to be given to the forgotten guests of Hawthorne Memorial Hospital during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays. Mrs. Raymond Brayo, 2366 Liberty Rd., an employee of the hospital, is assisting members in collecting and delivering these necessities.

There will be a Thanksgiving Day Square Dance, Thursday, November 24, 9:00-12:00 P.M., held at the Darrow Street Grange Hall, Route 91, Darrowville, Ohio. Charlie Call and his orchestra will furnish the music and refreshments will be available.

Eugene Dominic, Curriculum Director of Stow Schools, was the featured speaker when Riverview PTA met at the school Tuesday, Nov. 15. Students of the school had drawn pictures of what their dads looked like to them which were on display at this meeting.

Refreshments were furnished by first grade mothers, with Mrs. Douglas Hammond as chairman. (more club notices on p. 6)

Warren-DeFago Nuptials

Judith Diane Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hal R. Warren, 3440 Edgewood Drive, became the bride of Ronald L. DeFago, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel DeFago, 3774 Dorwil Dr., Akron, Saturday, November 3, in the Church in Silver Lake, with Rev. John H. Keefe officiating.

Following a reception held in the church social hall the couple spent a short honeymoon in Philadelphia, where they will live during the time Seaman DeFago is stationed there with the Navy. A 1960 graduate of Coventry High, he served one and a half years in the Naval Reserve before beginning two years of active duty.

Mrs. DeFago is a 1959 graduate of Stow High School. She also attended Kent State University for one year and has been employed at the Jones Buick in Cuyahoga Falls.

Julie Fuertes, a cousin of the bride, received a dress, wearing a candy pink velvet dress. Cecil Blessing, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man. Gerald Warren, brother of the bride, and Donald Maxwell, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, were ushers.

Mrs. Ronald L. DeFago, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride-elect is a junior at Stow High School. Her fiancé, a graduate of Stow High, is attending Kent State University and is employed by the Enterprises of Akron. He is currently working at the Stow store.

The young people plan to be married at the Kent Methodist Church on December 18, at 3:30 p.m. The custom of Open Church will be observed.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vitone formerly of 3434 Adaline Dr., have recently moved into their newly built home at 3962 Bycrobe more Dr.

Norman Russell is recovering from a bout with virus pneumonia.

Joe Sherlock, Moreland Ave., was prevented from working on the Boys Baseball Pancake Sup per as he plays by a call that his father was seriously ill in Hamilton, O., where Joe rushed without delay.

Mrs. Dorothy Bold wishes to express her thanks to her close friends and neighbors for their thoughtfulness in her recent bereavement.

Welcome New Neighbors

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Davis (Phylis), 499 Hudson Dr., moved to Stow in September from North Akron where they had lived for ten years after earlier days in Clarksburg, W. Va. Mr. Davis has been a waiter for nine years since completing a special training course at the B & W Co. in Barberton, and at the present time is associated with Ford Motor Co. in Bedford. He is an active committee member in the union.

Phyllis, graduate of Victory High School in Clarksburg, was employed in an office doing typing and bookkeeping before their marriage. Daughter Debbie (10) is a pupil at Highland School where Phyllis is a room mother for the fifth grade. Interested in garden club activity, she is also a troop chairman for Girl Scout Troop 328. Bowling and golf are favorite pastimes.

How much meat to buy?
Both amount to buy and cost of meat can be misleading at first. Amounts of bone and waste in each cut controls amounts as well as total cost.

For each 3 oz. serving of lean meat, allow:

- 4 oz. boneless meat (boneless roast, liver, ground meat)
- 1 lb. meat with small amount of bone (round steak, arm pot)
- 1/2 lb. meat with moderate amount of bone (airloin, rib or spare)

- 1 lb. bony meat (short ribs or spare ribs)

HIGH WAYS

by Sylvia Carson

(Note: Sylvia is subbing for Terry Moore while Terry recovers from mononucleosis.)

Stow High students' activities accelerate with the season. After finishing their football season with optimism for the next, our team came through with a tie in Wadsworth. Enthusiasm now swells for basketball.

The newly elected Sr.-Y-Teen basketball team is as follows: Forwards: Charlyne Perrine, Judy Thomas, Marge Worcester, Janet Glass. Guards: Dawnie Butler, Pat Belcher, Sharon Pimlott. The substitute list includes Nancy Wyschet, Bonnie LaPorme, Anita Csokva and Donna Finney.

Our band director, Mr. Mitchell, is formulating plans for a concert band next semester. The past season was celebrated with a banquet for band members.

Academically, the FTA's found their participation in National Education Week very interesting. Chemistry students welcome Mr. Richard Blake as their new teacher. Future college hopefuls braved the cold wind and mud to attend College Night at Manchester High last Wednesday.

Sharon Pimlott celebrated her sixteenth birthday with swimming and a slumber party last Saturday... and Sunday. Swimming at the Y - food, games, bonfires, and everything but sleep. Seventy friends helped Sharon celebrate.

We miss you, Terry. Get well fast!

End Season

With Tie Game

Friday night saw the Stow Bulldogs pick up the Wadsworth Bulldogs for the final game of this season.

Wadsworth scored in the opening period on a fumble pass which capped a 76-yard drive. Their point-after-touchdown was good, and the score at the end of the first period was 8-0 in favor of the Grizzles.

A punt by Stow didn't quell the second quarter and scored on a 70-yard touchdown drive, capped with John Sanderson punting. The Bulldogs had one pass over the 2. A punt from quarterback Kip Koski to senior halfback Ralph Richardson was good for the extra points. The score at halftime: 8-0.

The score remained tied for the third quarter.

Midway into the fourth, Stow punted to the Wadsworth 39-yard line. The receiver was hit pronto - he fumbled - Stow recovered! The Bulldogs immediately marched to the 11-yard line, where Sanderson bursted over for six points. The extra point attempt failed, and Stow led, 14-0, with 4:32 remaining in the game.

Wadsworth moved to the Stow 1-yard line, where they had first down and goal to go. The Bulldogs held the Grizzlies for three plays but the Wadsworth quarterback sneaked over for T.D. on the last down.

Stow's defensive line, which didn't agree with the referee's T.D. call, stopped Wadsworth's extra-point attempt. The score with 1:09 remaining was a 14-14 deadlock.

Following the Wadsworth kickoff, Stow had possession of the ball on their own 30-yard line with 42 seconds left! Two pass plays from Koski to Sanderson moved the ball 67 yards. As John ("the horse") caught the second pass, he was hit and downed on the 3-yard line. Just as he was getting up, the gun sounded and the game was over.

The record for the season: 1 Win, 6 Losses, 2 Ties.

W.G. Shorts Celebrate
Golden Wedding Here

Celebrating their Golden Wedding Anniversary yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Wadg G. Short, who were married fifty years ago in Goschen, Indiana.

Their daughter, Mrs. Walter K. Peterson, entertained for an open house for their relatives at her home, 4279 Kent Rd., where the Shorts stay each season.

Mr. Short, a co-founder of Hamre Business College and Akron Law School, has retired after active business life, but he was a contractor.

Mrs. Short was always active in church work at West Congregational Church when they lived in this vicinity. She was also active in Akron Women's City Club, Cuyahoga Falls Women's Club, and the Monday Study Club.

Stow Junior Mothers Club is touring Summit County Juvenile Court this evening.

Election of officers and a Christmas arrangement will take place at the Harvest Cross Garden Club meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. John Bedney, 3469 Cherry Drive on November 28 at 8 p.m.

Stow Players, Inc., wishes to announce the dates for the new show, "Suds In Your Eye". This 3-act comedy, written by Jack Kirkland and directed by John H. Buckley, will be presented in the Player's Room of Stow Town Hall the first three weekends in December (2-3, 9-10, and 16-17). Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. Heading the cast of 18 are Billie Godfrey, Betty Jayne Powell and Marge Forest.

A 26-minute film, "The Valiant Heart", concerning rheumatic fever, furnished by the Summit County Heart Association, will be shown at Highland Park's meeting Monday, Nov. 21, at 1 p.m. in the auditorium. Dr. Joseph Kossa, Cuyahoga Falls pediatrician and Children's Hospital staff member, will be present to answer questions. An informative pamphlet giving the facts about rheumatic fever will be distributed to the audience.

Brownie Troop 579, under the leadership of Mrs. Nathan Barnett, will present the colors.
