MINISTER’S COLUMN

The nut. The definition of which is, a kernel or seed enclosed in a shell, or it may be a block of metal threaded for adjusting or holding a bolt. Again it may be a parson or thing hard to deal with, an insane person. In England the term applies to a fop or dude. In our present day phraseology the word Nut is freely used to tag the hobbyist. If an office man has a garden—he’s a nut, if a doctor collects stamps—he’s a nut, if a lawyer has a couple of dogs—he’s a nut, if a church member is an enthusiast—he’s a nut. A nickname or some twist of grammar by which some one may be branded as foolish is quite the go, cheap words, cheap ideas, cheap slang. The fine old orthodax Quaker stock has become painfully thin. The Quakers used few words, abhorred slang, spoke with thoughtful deliberation. Good, old Wm. Penn, the preacher, the owner of the State of Pennsylvania, the founder of Philadelphia, was a fine example of the grand old stock.

But now the Nut. An old book I have, states that the ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master’s crib, but Israel doth not know. That is to say intelligent people are not as sensible regarding some things as the dumb animals. We have been taught that it is a poor rule that doesn’t work both ways, and that is the old adage. When all is summed up, who is the Nut? You may be good at figures and business or lead in any human craft, but kindly, my neighbor, how about your soul? Your influence? What light to guide another or what consoling treasures have you in your own store house, for the twilight of your own day? Why be worldly wise and spiritually foolish? Come over and help, my friend. It’s good to feel the urge of things unseen, it’s good to rub clothes with folk on the upward climb. It’s good to know God and live for Him. In all sincerity go quietly to your own shrine, be alone and ask yourself, who is the Nut?

and filed with the secretary, Mrs. McColgan. Report from the Chairman of the Board of Deacons, report from Deaconesses, report from the president of the Board of Trustees, report from the president of the Ladies' Guild, report from the superintendent of the Sunday school, report from the president of the Y. P. society of C. E., and the report from the church treasurer. Plans will be discussed for the salvation of lost souls of Stow. Signed, William R. Lodge.

Now in reality Mr. Lodge did not write this notice and the editor of this paper is not certain whether or not there will be a Church Night meeting on the aforementioned date, however, some mention was made to the effect that a Church Night meeting would be in order at this time, and if folks haven't forgotten about it, we will probably have some sort of a meeting on Friday evening, May 3rd. Come to church Sunday and find out about it.

It is reported that Donald Greenleaf, Ritchie road, has pneumonia. They are putting a new roof on the county home, in fact they are doing a lot of work over there now.

The Woods—490 Hudson road, expect to move over on the Kent road the last of this month.

Paul W. Guy, 104 Orchard drive, plans to build soon on his lot on Park drive, Silver Lake.

Charles Starner recently bought eight and one-half acres on the corner of Ellsworth road and Hudson drive. He has set out 1000 grape vines.

George Dyke, who has been quite ill, is improving.

Mrs. Clarence Kline and son, Robert of West Graham road were Easter visitors in Alliance.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Thomas were recent visitors at the home of Mr. Thomas’ sister at Ashtabula.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Delhante and children, Patricia and Tommie, of Grand Rapids, Mich., are visiting for two weeks with Mrs. Delhante’s friends and Mrs. C. A. Thomas.

Mrs. Wm. Lantz, Hudson road, entertained the Stow Knitting club at luncheon at her home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Biddle were Easter visitors in the home of their son, Howard Watson, on Cole avenue, in Akron.

Mr. Biddle’s uncle and aunt from Brockway, Pa., are visiting with him this week.

Ed. Hinkle, a senior in Stow High school, just returned from a visit with his mother and sister at Saginaw, Mich.

Howard and Ethel Klesa were Easter visitors at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Klesa, Kent road.

There were thirty-six ladies present last Sunday in Mrs. Dunn’s class. Incidentally there never seem to be enough quarterlies to go around in this class. How about ordering more?

A new coat of paint is to be applied by painter Bush to the floor of the ladies class room this week. Thanks to men such as Bush, Moy-er, Woodring, Al Stein and others the ladies will soon have their class room in good shape.

be a doctor you live in the atmosphere of a doctor, or if you wish to be a lawyer you live in the atmosphere of a lawyer, or perchance you are a chemist then you associate with chemists and you live in the atmosphere of a chemist. Therefore if you want to be a Christian it would seem necessary to live in the atmosphere of a Christian. This Christian atmosphere that Mr. Mincks tells us about, we might add, can best be experienced among the god people at prayer meeting or at church on Sundays.

With his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gerhold, Donald Gerhold went to Akron last Saturday to get new Easter clothes—and on his return to their home was taken ill with what the doctor says is scarlet fever. So Donald remained at the home of his grandparents Sunday in place of attending Sunday school. And that’s not all, Donald’s younger brothers Howard and Herbert are at the home of their parents with the mumps.

Those who were baptized last Sunday and admitted into full church membership are as follows: Jane Henderson, Mildred Osman, Alice Shaffer, Gladys Schroeder, Mary Shaffer and Dwight Schroeder.

MUNROE FALLS, OHIO
We like good music. We enjoyed the cantata given by the choir last Sunday evening very much. People who know about such things said that it was well done. Forest Hawk deserves much credit. Those who had solo parts were C. C. Trommer, John Stahl, Eloise Zirkle and Forest Hawk. How about another cantata by the choir, given again soon?

Eighteen small children, pupils in the Music Appreciation class of Mrs. Jean Max, 784 Hudson Road were pleasantly surprised by a visit from the Easter Bunny during their class Saturday morning, April 20th, each child was presented with an Easter basket and colored eggs. Several Easter games were played with prizes going to little June Hooper and Joyce Howyes of Kent.

JAMES CROSS WRITES

Mr. Stockman:
Here is an account of our trip so far. We left Stow Monday morning, April 8th and entered a snow storm soon after leaving Medina, Ohio. We could not see the top of the tower at station WLW for the snow. From there the snow ceased and by the time we reached Nashville, Tennessee, the trees were fully out in leaf and the lilacs, flags, tulips and other plants were in full bloom. The third day we crossed the Mississippi river. It was flooded for miles around and there were a few refugee camps along the banks. Most of the homes we saw in Arkansas were little better than our chicken coops in Ohio. (Editor's Note: Think James should have said they were not as good as our hen houses).

At Texarkana, Texas, I met one of my radio friends, W5EKF. He is a big six footer with a sleepy southern drawl.

At about the center of our route across Texas we came to what seemed an endless desert. (Editor's note: My wife, a native of Texas, objects to this:—no deserts in Texas, only unoccupied land). Cactus, mesquite, cottonwood and Mexican adobe huts dot the landscape.

I have yet to find a living thing in this country that does not bite, kick, sting, prick or stick. Now I know why cowboys wear chaps!

They have had very little rain in Texas this season and the whitened bones of cattle are a common sight. At Colorado, Texas, I was told that a man was hit by two drops of rain and three buckets of dust were required to revive him.

At El Paso we crossed the Rio Grande (a mere mud puddle due to lack of rain) into Juarez, Mexico, but strangely all the people there speak Spanish and we could not understand them. I obtained a very good shine there for two cents (three cents tip—total five cents).

Our roads the whole trip were very good.

We crossed one corner of New Mexico and reached Tuscon, Arizona at 6:00 p. m. Sunday evening.

Tuscon is surrounded by mountains. One range looks so close that I decided to walk over to it Monday afternoon and was laughingly informed by the natives that it is fifteen miles to the foothills. It looks at the most no farther than from Stow Corners to the school house.

Mrs. Knight and Harris have rented a house here and plan to stay a year.

I am going to leave next Monday for the Grand Canyon. I am gradually realizing a long wished for experience.

JIM CROSS

P. S.—More to follow.
