Big Event to take place tomorrow night in Community Church Dining Room

Stow, Ohio, October 18th

According to Miss Grime, Stow district school teacher whose picture appears on Page 3 of this issue and also according to the testimony of Ezra Nightingale, president of the Stow District School Board, the greatest, largest, and most BEAUTIFUL collection of femininity the world has ever witnessed (we hope) will be in the Eating Parlor of Stow Community church this coming Friday night. Each lady—it is expected will bring gorgeous boxes, each a masterpiece containing a delicious appetizing and satisfying lunch for two—you too—we two—or just two.

The non imitable choir of Stow Community church are sponsoring this affair of the mind, heart, stomach and pocketbook and if you would know the reason,—let me tell you,—keep it quiet but they—Ch! I'll tell you later.

But just this—Before we eat tomorrow night (evening) Miss Grime (take a look at her picture again) and her worthy scholars—Johnny Allspice, sister Allspice, Budge Stokes. Silly Simpson and others will show you the true character of Short Pants John Stahl, Perry Schnee, Daddy Trommer, Mrs. Monteith and so on, i.e. others. If you feel a little seedy, run down at the heel, blue or discouraged because they don't treat you right at home—or if you feel as if you were sitting on top of the world, come out tomorrow night with your wife or girl friend, or your grandmother, and see that she brings a box (shoe box is about right size) and—and—and get a good laugh before you eat.

Without doubt, if you are a lady and bring a box of eats, your eating will be certain, but if you are one of the noble men such as Budge Stokes, Al Stein, Rev. Hulme, Silly Simpson, Mr. Graner or Geo. Emery, whether you eat or not will depend on how successful you are in bidding on the boxes. C. M. Woodring, fresh air merchant salesman of Darrowville, Stow and Akron, etc., will be our auctioneer. Men—just come well supplied with the larger variety of chicken feed (money) and then—don't go hungry.

WANTED:—225
(Two hundred and twenty five)
MEN and BOYS
TO ATTEND BOX SOCIAL
Tomorrow Night.
The Following is an Exclusive Interview with Miss Grime

By "Budge Stokes"

STOP-LOOK-LISTEN — so says sister Grime.

There will be an old-fashioned Ecx Social. Same to be held by members of the choir of the Community church.

When?—Friday, October 18th.

Where?—In the dining room of the Community church.

What time?—7:30 p.m.

What else? — An entertainment by the choir members. It will be a play entitled "A Country School."

Come and see Mr. Schnee sit by the teacher with a dunce cap on his head, and hear Mrs. Judy recite the masterpiece "What a beautiful bird the frog are"—and John Stahl (Short Pants Johnnie) as John Allspice disrupt school activities. There will be old-fashioned singing lead by choir director "Daddy" Trommer, and Jack Wilbur the famous Stow reader will be on the program with a dozen or so selections.

Ladies young, middle aged and beyond middle aged, come bring a box and a man or two if you can get one. Men, boys come and bring a lady or just come and get someone else's lady to eat with. Anyway come, come, come, and—and—come.

REMEMBER FRIDAY, OCTOBER 18TH, 7:30 P. M.
