DO YOU ENJOY OR USE GOD?

He that cometh unto God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarner of them that diligently seek him. This we read in the book of Hebrews.

God is love, God is light, God is wisdom, God is truth, God is holy, God is our Father, and God is our friend, and God is the dispenser of every good and perfect gift.

Now, then, if God is all this, and infinitely more, and you and I are the objects of his love and care, then it follows that our house being set in order, this then is our privilege, to comfort this mighty God, even more, he invites us to make our wants known. Still more, to bring our burdens, and wonder of wonders his promise is to hear us, to help us and save us.

Better lay hold of these promises, my friend. So I ask, do you enjoy God or do you use Him? My understanding is that he will walk with us, if we open our hearts, that he will live with us if we invite him in. Strange play on composition, strange way of wording this subject, isn't it? But now, once more, do you enjoy or do you use God?

If God is wisdom, if he knows all things, and my wisdom is so shamefully limited, and his word states that we can command his inexhaustible store house, then, indeed by his own loving invitation I may draw near and fill my empty vessel with his own matchless wisdom.

Most of us flounder much of our time beneath a heavy load of care, we are knee deep, or waist deep, or just going under. Friends, let's quit it, there's a better way, better let God. I suggest we use him, be happy, trust God, refuse to be floored, God is able and God will. Yes, my friend, use God, contact him, advise with him, tune in to the Infinite, put yourself in his loving care, find employment among his people, believe that your life is a tiny bit of his glorious plan.

So very many seem to know God as a sort of ferry boat to carry them across when the shadows fall, and they find themselves slipping down by the river bank. The evening star and the far-away land and a delegation of angels to bear one safely across the great divide is a comforting and exhilarating thought. That, my friend, will all be taken care of, forget it, the mighty problem just now is life, life here and now. It's heavy, it's tangled and snarled with many uncertainties. You need yourself, yourself at your best, your best plus God.

So now, my friend, do you use God? How often man turns to this mighty Defender only when defeated and beaten in the game of life, when little is left to salvage, only then, do many give serious thought of God and the benefits they might have enjoyed.

THE HOLY SPIRIT
"And when he had said this, he breathed on them and saith unto them, receive ye the Holy Ghost." John 20.22. Last Sunday morning Rev. Hulme chose this verse as the text of his sermon on the Holy Spirit. Near the close of his discourse he told us
(1) that the supreme purpose of the Holy Spirit is to bring joy, happiness and wisdom to the possessor, (2) it is obtained as a gift to those who lead a life of prayer with the single purpose in their hearts of giving their all to God and (3) Romans 8-1, tells us
"There is therefore no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit." A man who possesses the Holy Spirit
can look the world in the eye
without fear.

Our minister contends that very few in the church of today know much if anything about the Holy Spirit, for no one who leads a double life can receive it. In the ten days after Christ's ascension and before Pentecost the disciples
did not play cards, dance, or drink

Omission and correction: The fact that Miss Aldine Littell celebrated her birthday at Bible School the preceding Sunday, should have been included in last week's paper. Furthermore it was Mrs. Lester North and not daughter Harriet, who was one of those for whom the happy birthday song was presented.

We think of the following reasons why people do not attend our church:

1—They may be lazy.
2—They may be indifferent to Christ.
3—They stay away to spite the minister.
4—They live in some other community in the United States.
5—They may prefer to go to another church that they enjoy better than ours.
6—Last but not least, they have a weekend trip to make to Michigan, Canada or Akron, Ohio.
