ABOUT PREACHERS

Wonderful and beyond estimate in human values has been the contribution of ministers of the Gospel to the world’s civilisation. In this brief manuscript I mention just a few of our own worthy men of the cloth. William Penn was a Quaker minister, through his father he inherited wealth, the King of England gave Penn a grant of land in part settlement of a debt due the father of William Penn. This grant was known as Penn’s Woods, or now the State of Pennsylvania. Perhaps no preacher since the world began ever owned such a vast tract of land as the great State of Pennsylvania. William Penn laid out the city of Philadelphia, known in the early days as the city of Brotherly Love. William Penn preached to the settlers, preached to the Indians. He was loved and respected by the natives, they called him the Great White Father. It’s a question whether any man in the settlement of any part of America was ever as beloved and respected as Rev. William Penn.

We live in an age when ministers are shifted about like furniture or baggage. Four or five years in many denominations and the preacher must move. The field is like a checker board. Rev. A. comes here, Rev. B is moved elsewhere. Thirty years ago a great cry went up for an educated ministry, churches everywhere demanded degrees, the schools produced the scholars and today among all the learned brethren of the ministry there isn’t a single preacher of power likened unto our back-woods Peter Cartwright, the Methodist pioneer who rode horse back from Pennsylvania to Illinois along the Indian trails.

Perhaps many ministers deserve shifting frequently, perhaps they gain experience as they move about, perhaps it is for the good of the cause, but mark, omitting extenuating circumstances, the few preachers who leave their names high on the cliffs of human history stick to one place. They grow stronger with the years, they endear themselves to the people, they go about doing good. No star of the first magnitude in the ministry ever left his parish under forty years of service. “A minister is small and weak who must move on in four years.

It’s debatable whether this country or any country ever produced a preacher equal to Henry Ward Beecher. The government at Washington sent Beecher to England during the dark days of the Civil War to deliver lectures.

“The Ox Knows His Owner”
in all leading cities of Great Britain to establish a better understanding of the controversy between our North and South. Some of Beecher's speeches are unanswerable arguments. Perhaps no man was ever sent to another country who wielded such universal respect as Henry Ward Beecher.

Many evangelists have tramped up and down the earth but none has outshone Dwight L. Moody. Moody started his mission work in Chicago and out from that center he labored all his life, a few more than forty years.

George Truett, the greatest preacher in the Baptist denomination, has been in Dallas, Texas, for forty years.

Russell Conwell spent fifty years in Temple church in Philadelphia. A great church, two hospitals and a university remain to grace his memory.

Space forbids else I could name one hundred others whose

ON WEDNESDAY EVENING

Prayer Meeting and Bible Study as conducted by Mr. Biggs is now being held in the large room in the church basement which arrangement makes it more comfortable for all concerned. A larger crowd can be accommodated in this meeting place. The meeting on Wednesday evening of last week we thought was especially good. You are invited to be present next Wednesday evening.

Besides these two, others will be there. Young people from the Mogadore Church are expected for the dinner and conference. Also the folks from our own Church of Christ in Stow have been invited and are expected for the noon and afternoon dinner and program. In next week's issue we will give further details regarding the music, entertainment, etc.

PERSONALS

Roy and Jack Olson went hunting last Saturday morning. They brought in four rabbits and one pheasant.

Union Thanksgiving Day services are held this year in the Stow Church of Christ. Rev. Hulme of Community Church, preacher.

Frank Combs of Cleveland and East Kent Road, Stow is spending the winter at Snell Island, St. Petersburg, Fla.

The Ladies Guild are buying a new stove for the church kitchen. They will have bigger and better dinners they say.

Birthdays celebrated at Bible School last S—day were those of Mr. “Al” Stein, Sam Mason, and Edwin Stockman.

Visitors at the C. V. Shakespeare home in Munroe Falls last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Aylard and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Myers of Cleveland also.

Prepare Your Car for Winter Driving--

DON’T WAIT FOR COLD WEATHER.... let us check your battery, change your oil and grease, put anti-freeze in your radiator and be all prepared for the first freeze. Summer oils-greases result in sluggish performance of your car. Hard starting, hard shifting or frozen cooling systems are annoying and costly when neglected. . . . It’s thrifty to spend a little to save a lot . . . DON’T DELAY . . . be assured of carefree winter driving.

MARHOFER CHEVROLET WA-1823 STOW, O.
Those we know who attended the Ohio Michigan football game at Columbus last Saturday were Eddie Parsons and L. E. Pierson of 350 East Kent Road. Also in another group who attended were Bruce Walker and "Dick" Osman.

Better pleased with his native state Ohio, than ever, Mr. Francis Marhofer of Marhofer Road, Stow, returned one day last week from a visit to the land of sunshine and fruit, i.e., California.

For playing "end" on the DePauw Freshman football team this year Max Biggs was awarded a numeral. The Editor of the DePauw University Paper speaks of this year's freshman football team as the "best in years". Max is now out trying for the position of center on the basketball team. You probably know this, but just as a matter of historic interest the local option question as voted upon in Stow at this last regular November election, was won by the dry forces. In precinct A, the only one for which we have figures an average of 115 votes were wet and an average of 255 votes were dry.

Don Worcester, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Worcester, Conwell Road, Stow, was home over the last weekend. He is a climatologist in the CCC camp at Shreve, Ohio. It is his job to read the weather instruments each thirty minutes. His hours for work are from 4:00 P. M. to 12 midnight. During the fore part of the day he attends the Shreve High School where he is a junior. It is his ambition when he finishes high school to be able to attend Akron University.

A new constitution as written by Rev. Hulme was adopted by the Community Church congregation at last Friday's business meeting. It will be effective January 1st, 1939.

We Apologize

Last week the letter "O" slipped down ahead of the letter "N" in the linotype machine and this time caused a decided difference in meaning, which thing brought down on us the wrath of the mighty powers that rule and operate Stow's one and only Cen-

Filled with righteous wrath and indignation they were very much upset, for be it known the Central Cash Market at Stow never, never sells any frozen poultry. Only the most choice, live, vivacious, plump, and healthy specimens are brought into their place of business and these are butchered as we understand it now, only on the advance order of the customer.

The ad should have read “no frozen stock,” but the “O” for an “N” and the “N” for an “O” made it read thus and so: “We dress our own poultry on frozen stock” which you will see and undoubtedly agree, is a serious blunder. Just plain carelessness on the part of those who set the linotype, the proof readers and the printer. Even the editor is responsible for he hires the printers and pays them occasionally when he gets the money.

So! Therefore and according-ly we make public and humble apology and hope that those wronged may receive recompense for unjust publicity and that this brief explanation will satisfy. We also hope that all those who refrained from buying their Thanksgiving poultry at the Central Cash Market because they thought it was frozen will see fit to do as they think best about the matter.

With apologies to the Central Cash Market and the heretofore misinformed public.
