WHAT THE STARS SAY

A silly fad has had a great run, it soon ran its course and passed out, I refer to the Chinese sage of five and a half centuries before Christ, namely, Confucious say. No doubt the old philosopher said some good things, however, for real backing, for a storehouse of wisdom I prefer to suggest, the Bible says, for the Bible quotes the wisdom of many philosophers and inspired men.

Many centuries before Christ a shepherd looked into the heavens, it was a star-lit night, his eye followed the line of the great dipper, the evening star was full and bright, the heavens sparkled with the jewels of many stars, so many that no man could count them. It was a great sight, comparable to the sparkling worlds that float in the boundless space. So David put his gaze of the stars into words, (Psalm 19.) He wrote, “The heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament showeth his handiwork. There is no speech nor language where their voice is not heard.”

If the stars were visible only once every fifty years how all the world would gaze up into the skies to behold His Glory, to see the twinkle of mansions far away across space, too great to measure. But what do the stars say?

Ah, they speak of majesty, of grandeur that surpasses utterance or description. The stars swimming, floating, speeding incessantly with speed almost beyond reckoning, shooting through space by unerring laws that direct their course, no confusion, no destruction. Lo, the sky is full of them passing and repassing by the millions to and fro, faster by far than a weaver’s shuttle.

What do the stars say? They preach, yes, they are the world’s greatest preachers. Their appeal is universal, their silent message is ever speaking to a troubled world, they tell of peace, of order, of law, of the Rock that is, of that which abides, that cannot be touched or marred or meddled with the children of men. They calmly smile upon the blunders and ugliness of a man’s inconsistencies. Oh, wonder of wonders, are the stars overhead.

What do the stars say? They speak of order, yes, order, never out of step, always dependable. Astronomers tell us a thousand years ahead of a comet or an eclipse. They tell us to the fraction of a minute where a star will be on Christmas night, or any other. The wild winds may sweep across the earth, storm clouds may blacken the sky, but the stars are all in order.

What do the stars say? They speak of mystery. What know we about the stars? What kind of people inhabit them? Has sin infested those majestic worlds? Do folks there live as we do here? Do the laws of life and death give and take the children of men? Are love and fear factors in the life among the stars? Do they have wars, sickness and misunderstandings as the men of this earth do? There is no way of finding out this side of eternity. It is all mystery.

So what do the stars say? They say, One is our Master, even Christ, and all we are brethren. They say, Behold infinite wisdom rules the heavens, the seas, and the seasons, and the rushing worlds obey His voice. They say to us, we little pygmies of the earth, like the flowers or the weeds that all are a part of His infinite plan. They say, Behold, as candles in darkness, we bid all mankind look and live, for behold, we are daily reminders of our Father’s care. We shine above you all the time to remind you of the life that is to be.

Geo. M. Hulme.

THE McGOWAN FUNERAL HOME

Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio
SERMON REPORT

Last Sunday morning in a sermon entitled “A Call to Worship” Rev. Hulme chose as his text scripture from the twenty second chapter of Genesis. This scripture relates how God in order to test Abraham told him to take his son into the land of Moriah and “offer him there for a burnt offering”—“Abraham rose up early and saddled his ass and took two of his young men with him and Isaac, his son.” After a three days journey Abraham said unto the “young men, abide here with the ass; and I am the lad will go yonder and worship.”

Rev. Hulme noted that the two young men were left behind with the ass. The shot then developed that here in Stow there are a great many who figuratively speaking prefer to stay with the asses rather than heed the call to worship. They lie in bed on Sunday morning, they remain at home with the farm animals or they may go out and have a good time. At any rate their preference is not for worship.

Rev. Hulme recalled that of the ten Virgins there were five that qualified and five who had a good nap. Also of the twelve disciples only three were witnesses to the transfiguration, the other nine remained in the valley.

We need the spirit of worship. Worship is the desire for the Holy.

Worship finds its mightiest impulse in contact with God. “They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength, they shall mount upon wings as eagles.”

Worship finds its expression in good works.

CONSIDER THIS

“Not by Might, Nor by Power, but By My Spirit”

Persecution of the Jews in Europe brings renewed interest in God’s promises concerning these people and what may happen to the persecutors. Thru the courtesy of Mrs. Geo. P. Jones, Miss Hazel Byers of West Graham Road sends in the following which is an answer to recent discussion and inquiry on the subject.

In Genesis 12:3 there is found this promise to Abraham “I will bless them that bless thee and curse him that curseth thee.” This promise has been applied also to Abraham’s descendants and it is a fact of observation that God has blessed those nations which have befriended the Jews and has punished those nations which have treated them cruelly. It is true God uses Gentile nations to chastise His people, but it is also true that he has judged these nations for their cruelty toward His people.

Zachariah (chapter 12 verse 9) prophesying of the restoration of Judah and speaking for God says "And it shall come to pass in that day that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem." Also in chapter 14 verse 12; "And this shall be the plague where with the Lord will smite all the peoples that have fought against Jerusalem; their flesh shall consume away while they stand upon their feet; and their eyes shall consume away in their holes, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth."

Will Zachariah's prophecy come to pass in our day?

YOUR STREET AND MINE

The first street listed in W. V. Smith's Stow Directory is Adaline Drive. It runs from Park Drive north to West Graham Road. On this street you will find many interesting people. For instance:

In the first house on the east side of Adaline Drive (151 is the number) lives B. E. Pendergast and wife. Theirs a comfortable home. Mr. Pendergast is a salesman for the Aleminite Company. They have been in Stow five years but as yet have not made any church connections. They presented your reporter with several hundred dollars worth of sales tax stamps which were turned over to our church treasurer. We hope to see them at Community Church sometime soon.

A. E. McCoy, wife, ten year old son Eugene Algier, and year and a half old daughter Julia Ann live at 163 Adaline Drive. Mr. McCoy is a foreman working for Goodyear. Here also lives Mrs. McCoy's father, Mr. A. E. Ross.

Mr. Ross who was the only one at home when we called, was born in Mercer County, Pa. Once a telegraph operator he was later in the mercantile business in Grove City for several years. Now retired he expects to do some gardening this summer. He is a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge.
At 167 Adaline Drive in Rev. Roberts' old home now live the Melvin L. Ingels and their new baby. They were not at home when we called but since we hear that are from Texas we will try and call again, for, most people who come from Texas are not far from being perfect.

On the other side of the street, first house from the circle, in Mr. Zink's former residence (136 Adaline Drive) we are told that the D. E. Autens reside. They were not at home when we called. On their front door was a cute little box with the words burnt thereupon "Will Be Back Soon. Leave A Note"—Not knowing just what to say we left no note.

Next house (148 Adaline) the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Saurwein. They were not at home either, which was probably just as well, for we were not certain how they might have appreciated their recent write up in this paper, and, we understand, appearing later in the Beacon Journal. We will call again.

C. H. Monteith, 154 Adaline Drive, a native of Monroe County, Ohio. Tho a comparatively young man, he has resided in Stow for twelve or thirteen years and on Columbus Day in October of this year will have completed twenty-five years service with the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company. the Bible School, a deacon and a trustee he also takes an active part in other affairs for he is president of the Stow Township School Board, he is Master of the Darrow Street Grange, and he is a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Mrs. Monteith was born in Pennsylvania but until married lived most of her life in Ravenna. She also is a church member. She is president of the Ladies Guild and is an active member in the church choir. This week as Lydia Pinkham in the choir play “The Old District School” she displayed other and hitherto unsuspected talents as an actress.

The Monteiths have four children. Paul the eldest, a graduate of Stow High school, works for the Sun Oil Company; Betty, a senior this year in Stow Hi, has an ambition to become an M.D.; Edward (or “Bud” as his friends know him) is in the ninth grade and a good student. Last time his report card showed all “A’s.” Ruth Eileen, youngest daughter is in the fourth grade.

Living at 218 Adaline Drive we find H. T. Stoll, wife and son “Laurie,” also Grandpa Stoll, retired. They have been in Stow three years, originally coming from Lakewood, Ohio. H. T.

Stoll who works with the General Motors Acceptance Corporation in Akron was not at home when we called but "Grandpa" Stoll and Grandson "Laurie" entertained their visitor with discussions on politics, religion, etc. Laurie, a member of Boy Scout Troop 167 is an honor student in the seventh grade and is a visitor at our Boy's Bible Class occasionally. Last winter, feeding the quail was one of the elder Mr. Stoll's hobbies. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge.

his home or just south and east of Lowe's you will find the white oak tree referred to in Rev. Hulme's recent article which was bent so as to mark an Indian trail. This no doubt accounts for the many arrow heads collected by son Charles in the neighborhood. Incidentally Charles possesses bones, one apparently a small rib, which he secured from a prehistoric mound at Benton, Ohio.

Dr. Clifford a research chemist for Goodyear, has several interests besides chemistry. He is a member of the Stow School Board. Hobbies are woodworking, gardening and horticulture. He is secretary of the Men's Garden Forum the only organization of its kind for men in Summit County. He is an authority on plant feeding having several in his window that are receiving a special diet of Vitamin B 1. Also twenty six variety of cacti might be mentioned.

Dr. Clifford and wife are members of the first Methodist Church in Cuyahoga Falls. Charles often attends Bible School at Stow Community Church and is a member of Boy Scout Troop 167.

Coming from Akron, Ernest H. Conway and his wife of 336 Ada-line have resided in Stow since September, 1928. Mr. Conway has been an employee of the Ohio Bell Telephone Company since 1924. He is a member of the Stow Church of Christ and a leader in Boy Scout Troop No. 158 for the past six years. His hobby is photography and now he is starting to play chess.

Mrs. Conway also a member of Stow Church of Christ is an immaculate housekeeper and numbered among Stow's expert cooks, one of her recipes appearing in a recent issue of this paper. We hope to publish other recipes of Mrs. Conway later on.

"WHAT THE EDITOR SAYS YOU MUST TAKE WITH A GRAIN OF SALT"

Thank Goodness—It's Over—

Before a crowd of some five thousand people (or less) certain talented and hard working members of our church choir glorified themselves, humanity in general, and Stow merchants in particular, last Tuesday evening in the super super spectacle "The Old District School".

While we didn't see everything or hear all, in our opinion Elmo Rearick as Buster Brown was most tastily costumed while C. H. Monteith as Deacon Tidd was the most composed member of the cast. All the girls were very beautiful and as salesman for advertising in the program Burl Cox out did himself. In fact it's rumored he has been offered a job with the Cleveland Plain Dealer as advertising mgr.

Editor's note: A number reported receiving papers with blank pages last week. That this happens is not intentional but is due to the physical condition of the paper, or sometimes, to poor adjustment on the automatic feeder attached to the press, which may occasionally allow more than one sheet to run thru at a time. In case your paper is not completed call WA-9463 and a more complete copy will be delivered.
