PROPHECY

In 1st Cor. 13:8 we read: "Charity never faileth, but prophesies they shall fail." The Moffatt translation of this scripture reads: "As for prophesying it will be superseded and superseded means to set aside to make void." In the olden day false prophets were straightway stoned, in fact proper discrimination was not always given the prophets, the good and intelligent citizens of the long ago hated a falsifier or one who would pose as a discerner of mysteries and future events without due knowledge or spiritual insight or prophetic vision, one to pretend to make known the secrets known only to the Sovereign of the universe. World conditions are such in this age that many prophets have arisen, many of them are glib and bold, I trust they are not all false. If they be a channel through which Jehovah speaks well and good I bow my knee reverently before them, if false I abhor them, they are more cursed than the blind leading the blind, they vaunt themselves with a superiority of knowledge and interpretative cunningly dividing or fitting together their patchwork of world tragedies and the scriptures in such a plausible way that the very elect are deceived. They make their books and tracts appear scriptural but in fact it is only the cunning of their own mind. If they were back in the primitive age many of these deceivers would be stoned and justly so. In this article space forbids the mention of more than two or three of the illusions mentioned. First, the great Roman Empire that they claim shall be rebuilt. Such is only a fantastic dream a misjuggling of scripture. There is only one kingdom that the Almighty God has any interest in building in this benighted world of ours that is the Kingdom of Jesus Christ. From Daniels figure of the great Image there is only one true interpretation that is the Kingdom of Christ, it supersedes all lines and boundaries of geography, also of cast, nationality or color. Many prophecies are as silly as the Seven Day Adventists setting the time for the end of the world, which they have done on several occasions, or Judge Rutherford and The International Bible students that mutilate the dear old Book and make it speak falsely. Millions now living will never die is their slogan. By what authority pray do they preach such untruths. Again, Armaggedon they cry, this world war will soon be turned into that final struggle, that last murderous battle that clash of millions of the children men that final test of power, good fitted against bad, wicked seeking the overthrow of the righteous. Now many times in the past have prophets labeled international uprisings as Armageddon, however they sold their books, they posed as authority on Biblical mysteries their prophecy or the unfolding of the mysteries of the Book was only a guess. Time proved them wrong, howbeit they just pulled their stakes, set them ahead, made new notes and measurements and meddled again where Angels would fear to tread. Beware my friends, prophecy and the unfolding of Goa's mysteries belong to rare souls and they are few and the time is marked by God.

Golden Text—Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to the whole creation. Mark 16:15.

The disciples were not quick to believe that Jesus actually rose from the dead. Some doubted and were only convinced after hearing his words, witnessing his ascension and receiving the powerful gift of the Spirit.

After his resurrection he made a claim which was not made during his ministry—a statement simple in wording but without parallel in scope. He said, "All authority hath been given unto me in heaven and on earth."

In a time of powerful dictators, feeding their ego on monstrosities of oppression, lust and blood, claiming superiority of race or even divinity as their authority, how refreshing it is to consider that actual, ultimate authority is not given to any man but rests with the Son of God. Sin may rock the world with destruction and grief; dictators may rise to power and spread terror; but Christ IS, supreme over all, and in the appointed time will demonstrate his supremacy to the world powers.

With this new revelation of the Lord's true position, the disciples were instructed to go out and teach to all nations the gospel of Jesus, that they might believe, be baptized and saved. The disciples were given promise of supernatural gifts to this end.

In conclusion of the earthly manifestation of Jesus, he ascended up to heaven to sit on the right hand of the Father, where he ever... lives to prepare a place for us and plead our cause with a righteous God.

TEXT—SERMON
In his sermon Sunday morning our minister chose as his text the commandment “Thou shalt have no other gods before me”, Exodus 20:3, or in the Moffat translation of the Bible it reads, “Thou shalt have no God but me.”

“Loyalty” was the subject. It was pointed out that loyalty was demanded in any business. But when it comes to loyalty to the church, too often we are scattered, we are pulled this way and that. We have other gods. Rev. Hulme asked if there was anything more far fetched than to ask church people to stay to church. The people must leave to prepare their Sunday dinner, or they must sleep in on Sunday morning, or they must keep their business place open for Sunday customers. They serve other gods. They are not loyal to the one true God. GOD DEMANDS OUR LOYALITY IF WE ARE TO BE HIS PEOPLE.

A PIONEER PASSES
Friday of last week Stow lost one of her oldest and best-known citizens, one who had spent most of his eighty-two years in this vicinity, Porter Ritchie. He was known here as a farmer and stock dealer and the father of six sons all of whom lived not far away. He had spent some time as a pioneer in Iowa in early life and while there had known my great uncle, a Civil War soldier. On my father’s side of the house we also had common acquaintances as he had spent a winter as a boy with the parents of his mother, Catherine Shannon, who lived in Mechanic Township, Holmes County, close to my father’s home.

Mr. Large had told me that Mr. Ritchie knew my people, and Mr. and Mrs. Large and I went to visit the Ritchies at their home in Darrowville, taking along moving pictures of a family reunion at Bethel church which is on the old Shannon farm. It was a pleasure to hear him tell of life there and in Iowa years before I was born. Together we planned a visit to that family reunion, which we later in the summer carried out. This gave me a chance to know Mr. Ritchie better.

I remember Porter Ritchie for his kind interest in people and particularly for his thoughtfulness in bringing a fine big bouquet of flowers for Martha when she had scarlet fever. He had an enthusiasm for life that left you with the impression that each of his eighty-two years had been a year richly worth the living. Numerous instances of his honesty in stock buying and selling were called to my attention by old residents.

I deem it a privilege to have known Porter Ritchie and to have shared in a small way in his rich full life. His memory will be a cherished tradition to many who knew him in this locality. We never have too many men like him.

The above picture of Stow boys comes from a reader in Florida, Mrs. R. E. Durham, formerly Eldra Littell of Stow. We would guess from the size of the boys and what we know about them now that it was taken about ten years ago. Many of them are now in the service of Uncle Sam. You will recognize their names, if not their faces. Incidentally when Mr. C. L. Dike of King Drive saw the picture he did not recognize his own son. Reading left to right they are: Donald Dike, Jack Brittan, Lawrence Richardson, William Capin, Carl Walters, Ralph Bragg, Robert Fritz, Robert Murray, Billy Denning, Vaughn Pence, Herman Sharpneck, Lee Martin, Robert Lewis, Gerald Davis and Harold Roxbury.

SCRAP COLLECTION

America's war industries must have your scrap metals, rubber, old rags, paper. Proceeds will be used for the protection of life and property in Stow Township. Monday, June 22 a fleet of trucks will cover the township to get your contribution—large or small. Our boys are giving their all. We can give our scrap.

Mrs. Glen Rupert of Seattle, Washington, was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mitten last Friday. Mrs. Rupert was an old high school friend of Mrs. Mitten at Millersburg.

Lester Garver and wife of West Arndale road one day last week attended the wedding of a niece Miss Janette Garver to Mr. Wright Payne at Hartford City, Ind. They also visited relatives at Grand Rapids, Michigan and traveled through some of the better farming country in that state. Mr. Garver says that he would like to be a farmer and raise things.

Mr. Leon Henault, Thorndale avenue, entertained the men of his department of Goodrich at a stag party at his home last Saturday afternoon.

Bob Lewis of Liberty road, Stow, is now stationed at Keesler Field, Miss., which is right on the Gulf of Mexico. Upon arrival there it is reported he immediately set out in search of fried clams which he always enjoyed so much on the family summer trips to Maine. Bob is in the training school at Keesler Field.

Low attendance at Bible school the last two Sundays brought forth remarks from both our pastor, Rev. Hulme, and Acting Supt. Monteith. Reminding us that our most precious investment is in our children Mr. Monteith, calling attention to the general desire for material gain and wealth throughout the world today, propounded the old Biblical question, "What shall it profit a man, if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul". Rev. Hulme placed the blame for low Bible school attendance on indifference on the part of both the teachers and the parents. The habit of regular Bible School and church attendance is not being taught our children. We are lax in our efforts for the Lord.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Huddelston of 283 Lillian Rd., gave a big dinner on Sunday of last week for their sailor son Lee and his buddy O. D. Glass, who were home on a ten day leave. Guests were Miss Betty Wagner, Miss Alice Mathews of Cuyahoga Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Boswell and daughter Delores of Bedford, O., Lee's grandmother, Mrs. A. Hopkins and three brothers Kenneth, Carl and Clarence. The boys returned Monday morning to the Norfolk Va. Naval Base.

On Tuesday evening of this week J. R. Anderson of Vira Rd., received a Father's Day greeting via Cablegram from his son James who is in Northern Ireland. In a letter to his folks received on last Friday James writes that while Northern Ireland is a nice country and the people are very friendly he prefers the good old U. S. A. In going across he noted that there was lots of water in the Atlantic Ocean. He was not sea sick and had time to do a lot of sleeping. Apparently the "subs" did not worry him any.
