BIBL NAMES AND THEIR MEANING

The first name that is of interest in the Bible story is that of Adam. Adam is known as the first man so called because he was formed from earth. Adam, therefore, means earth or ground. In the second chapter of Genesis, we read that God formed every beast of the field and every fowl of the air from the ground, that he brought them to Adam to be named and whatsoever Adam called every living creature that was the name thereof. So Adam became the author of names, or the first professor of the science of language. Names given to objects by Adam evidently had a meaning and was expressive of something quite definite. The purpose of words is to suggest, follow or illustrate a general idea. Moon means the measure, sun the begetter, earth the ploughed, cave gives a general idea of hollows and rivers something that flows. The word woman means taken out of man. (Gen. 2:23). Adam called his wife's name Eve, for she was the mother of all living. The second name that Adam gave his wife, "Eve" was a proper name meaning life, expressive of the general idea, the flow of human life.

All Bible names are of great interest, space forbids the mention here of but a comparative few. Moses, the great lawgiver, is an outstanding name. In the Book of Exodus, written by himself, it is stated that the Egyptian princess called his name Moses, "Because I drew him out of the water." The word Moses, therefore, means deliverance. It is argued by the best authorities that Pharaoh's daughter certainly spoke the Egyptian language and the name given by her to the child must have been Egyptian. Josephus also affirms that Moses is an Egyptian word and not a Hebrew word. The etymology of the word Moses corresponding Egyptian names is very interesting, but space forbids an enlargement on them here.

The name of Jesus is, beyond controversy, the name above all names. (Acts 4:12). There is salvation in no other name. There is no other name under heaven, given among men, whereby we must be saved. How precious then is the name of Jesus, "And thou shalt call his name Jesus; for he shall save his people from their sins." (Matt. 1:21). The name Jesus is not our invention or discovery or our naming, it is of God. God's announcement and presentation to all the world of a Saviour. We, therefore, approach the throne of grace with an eager joy in lispimg the precious name of Jesus, our coming to God in personal or public prayers will meet with acceptance and favor of our Lord for in Him only is the way to eternal life "Yes, Jehovah hath highly exalted Him, and given Him a name which is above every name: that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord." (Phil. 2:9-10). It is proper to speak of our Lord as Jesus the Christ, meaning, Jesus the anointed one, Christ being the official name. The word Christ, strictly speaking, being a title. In the Old Testament priests and kings were set apart and anointed. Preachers today are ordained. Christ, therefore, was God's appointed; God's anointed, not by oil or human hands, but divinely appointed. "This is my beloved Son," spoke a voice over the waters of the Jordan, "In whom I am well pleased," and later, "Hear ye of Him." Jesus is an earthly name with a spiritual design. Christ is a heavenly title that signifies the honor and power bestowed on Him. So great and so wonderful is the meaning of the two words, Jesus and Christ, that almost a countless number of titles are given our Lord in both the Old and New Testaments that we may more easily comprehend and know as our Saviour, our Lord and our living King. I mention here only a few of the most significant ones: He was the second Adam, the first Adam of the earth, earthly; the second of heaven, heavenly. (1
CONSIDER THIS

There is a verse of scripture that has a solemn warning to all Christians and would-be-Christians. Read:—"NOT EVERY ONE that saith unto me Lord, Lord shall enter into the Kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. Matt. 7:21.

You may have read this verse before, you may have heard the minister quote it in the pulpit, however it should be considered again, again and again, for the promises of the Lord are sure and certain. Without doubt an unknown number of souls will find the doors of Heaven shut in their faces. Jesus says so, It is true!

But the last part of the verse gives us the key of escape from Perdition, the key as it were to Heaven itself. The words are these: "HE THAT DOETH THE WILL OF MY FATHER." Such souls then that do GOD'S WILL will enter the Kingdom.

Let us then make no mistake. What is the WILL OF GOD?

JESUS, OUR ONLY HOPE OF SALVATION has said: "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock and it shall be opened unto you: for everyone that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened." Matt. 7:7-8.

Therefore, again we say, since the promises of our Lord are sure and certain, TO KNOW THE WILL OF GOD let us ask him to reveal it unto us (which is prayer), then let us seek it out in the scripture.

In Matthew 18:14, read: "IT IS NOT the WILL of your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish." And again in John 3:16 we read that God "gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him SHOULD NOT PERISH, but have everlasting life."

Furthermore—if God commands us, such must be his will. So in

Mark 12:30-31 Christ answered the question of a scribe as to the Greatest Commandment says—"And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with ALL THY HEART, AND WITH ALL THY SOUL, AND WITH ALL THY MIND, AND WITH ALL THY STRENGTH;" and the second—"THOU SHALT LOVE THY NEIGHBOR AS THYSELF." "There is no other commandment greater than these."

Other scripture than the above, revealing God's will could be presented but, anyone who will sit for a few minutes quietly, carefully and prayerfully considering each phrase, each word of each verse quoted will find much more to do in the keeping and the doing of God's will than is commonly practiced by most church folks.

Lieutenant Richard H. Beckwith recently by Mrs. Clara Burmeister, 131 Elm Rd., Stow.

Lieutenant Beckwith was pilot of a C-87 Liberator express transport plane which left Jorhat, India, on May 5th on its way to Kunming, China, carrying supplies. The last contact was made by radio while the lieutenant was over Golghat, India, twenty miles northeast of Jorhat.

When he failed to arrive at his destination, searches were begun, twenty-one in all, but no trace of the plane was found. Lieutenant Beckwith was a Kent State and Akron University student before entering the service. He was a graduate of Stow High School.

A NEW ARMY?

I have just been reading the report of the Doolittle Committee which was appointed to study the problem of officer-soldier relations and make a report of its findings to the War Department. I didn't think that these matters would ever be allowed to have the publicity that they have enjoyed the past few months. Here was a matter that had been hushed up for as long as we've had an army. Here was a national disgrace of startling magnitude that was not allowed to get into the public press.

It seems that the army was organized on the Prussian System that made its officers a bunch of lords and at every turn sought to show its enlisted men that they were just a bunch of nobodys not fit to drink the same water and eat the same food as the officers. I imagine that things were much the same in this war as in the First World War. They must have been even worse or they wouldn't have been accorded a hearing. The awful uniforms we had to wear even though we were able to buy better ones for ourselves were bad enough, but that was only the beginning. I remember the time...
Elsie Janis came to entertain the 83rd. Division. Right in front of her in the form of a triangle in all the space where you could really see and hear her well the hillside was marked off with stones for the officers. Now I can't see why an officer can't see just as well from a distance as I, but that was just another way to show the men how really trifling they were. When we moved from one place to another, the men rode on trucks, but the officers rode in a car. Now this was for comfort, but it was also to show that the men were not fit to ride with the officers. These things were just trifles compared to the social discriminations that were perpetrated under the guise of maintaining disciple. You didn’t dare to associate with an American woman overseas if you were not an officer. No, you weren’t good enough.

It would be easy to fill this whole copy of the Community Church News with instances of the injustices of the old army system. We need to differentiate between the officers as a class and the army system that permitted these injustices to exist. We need to remember that this committee was made up of officers and enlisted men. Let us commend them for making the frank recommendations that were included in the report that I read and heard discussed today. Let us hope that something will be done about it. Let us hope that Congress does not let the matter rest. Let us hope that the enlisted man of the future will be respected as a thinking, feeling human being. We’ll be seeing you.

NOTICE LETTER

Dear Class of ’39:

For some time, various members of our class have suggested that we have a reunion. Due to the war, and the fact that most of the boys were away from home, we postponed it until the war's end and we could all be together. We feel that that time has arrived and have set the date as June 9, 1946, 2:00 p.m. at Adele Durbin Park.

We are asking you to bring a well-filled basket lunch and your family (if you have one) and 50c (also if you have it). The money will be for a registration fee and will help defray the expense of refreshments.

During the afternoon there will be time for renewing old acquaintances, showing off the family, and good speeches by "you know who". Well loved faculty members will be there (they bring their lunches too!) and there will be lots of reminiscing because now "the truth can be told". Also during the evening, the "Old class will and prophecy will be read, and this might bring back startling memories to some of you.

We have contacted many of the class but there are still a number who are proving impossible to trace. If you know the address of any of the old gang, call me at OV-8276 or "Pepper" at BL-2337, or drop "Pepper" a card at the Stow Library.

Registration will start at 2:00 p.m. at the shelter house.

THE VIEW

“A woman in a tenement today
Said, ‘Do come and see my view,’ and led the way
To her back door. I saw but disarray
Of backyard rubbish, cans and barrels of trash
And grimed outbuildings, flanked by piles of ash.

“Dismayed, I turned to her and found her eyes
Raised to the higher level of the skies,
In them, a look both innocent and wise.
‘See how green the hill,’ she pointed far,
‘And just above you’ll find the evening star.’

“Before the glowing pleasure of her face,
Who found the beauty in that lowly place,
I humbly prayed that God might give me grace
To look above all sordidness and strife
And only see the hills and stars of life.”

time, these, with a very little extra news would have totaled four more pages.

Now this is mentioned with the idea of explaining to those whose advertising did not appear, that it was omitted, not with malice afore-thot, but only because there was a lack of time AT THE TIME OF PRINTING.

In some ways the running of this paper is like the running of a machine, everything has to click at the right time, otherwise things do not go as intended. One night out will spoil our schedule, an hour’s delay in getting home some evening may mean that we cut the size of the paper four pages less than intended; not being able to get certain supplies on time is another hinderance—and don’t tell anyone but it’s Spring and our grass needs attention and there is a garden to make, and we do like to get out of doors. And—we are still trying to make it to bed each night by 9:30 to 10:00 p. m. So now you know why the “ads” were left out. We are going to try and do better next week though for we believe our advertising a service to our fellowman, besides being a source of income that is necessary in the support of the paper.
