THE GREAT COMMANDMENT

But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, they were gathered together. Then one of them which was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying, "Master, which is the great commandment in the law?" Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets. Matt. 22:34-40.

CHRIST’S TEACHING ABOUT BLESSEDNESS

"Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful; but his delight is in the law of the Lord." Psalm 1:1-2.

Our Lord lived inside the City of Blessedness, and in Matthew 5:1-12 He reveals to all men the eight gates by which that City may be entered. For myself, I cannot go in by the Gate of Poverty of spirit, for I am not humble enough; nor by the Gate of the Mourners, for I am not grieved enough for my own sins or the sins of others; nor by the Gate of the Meek, for I often resent injury; nor by the Gates of Mercy, or Purity, or Peace. But I may claim to enter by the fourth Gate, for I HUNGER AND THIRST AFTER RIGHT-EOUSNESS. And as I go in, I find myself inside the City, and in the company of all holy souls that have entered by the other gates. For in the Heavenly City, to enter by any gate is equivalent to having entered by all; and one grace which is inwrought by the Holy Spirit will ultimately lead on to all the rest.

WHAT IS BLESSEDNESS? According to our Lord’s teaching, it is a condition or state of heart. Outward circumstances are not mentioned, unless it be reproach and persecution, as though they were matters of indifference. Blessedness is altogether independent of our outward lot, whether prosperous or perplexed, rich or poor. Blessedness begins and ends with a contended recognition of the Royalty of Christ’s Kingdom; in the power of seeing the good in everything, and so inheriting the earth; in being satisfied, in obtaining mercy, in seeing God and being called His sons and daughters. Is it not worth while to strive to enter in at these wide open doors? And if you can say that you really do yearn after better things, hungering and thirsting for more likeness to Christ, and more fitness for His Kingdom—if that desire really represents the purpose of your life, you may account yourself as being already admitted within the Gates of the Blessed Life.

We must not suppose that Our Lord allocated the award of Blessedness to the possessors of certain attributes with an arbitrary and royal prerogative. He simply declared what was true in the nature of things. To be true, pure, merciful, and meek, is to have in your possession the seed-germs of the harvest of Blessedness. If you turn from this wonderful enumeration of Christian qualities to Galatians 5:22, you will find all of them set forth in the list of the fruit of the Spirit. May He work in us and through us a well-balanced and full-orbed Christian character.—F. B. Mayer.

CHURCH SERVICES FIRST DURING JANUARY

After a six weeks' trial, it was unofficially decided by those in attendance at the Church Business meeting last Friday night to continue holding church services at 9:30 a.m. and Bible School at 10:30 a.m. during the remainder of January. The only difference in the program recommended was that a more complete Bible School service be carried out. While a majority of those voting on the proposition at Bible School the preceding Sunday favored holding the Bible School session first the “official” decision on this matter by the church body has been postponed until the February business meeting.

WISHING BOOKS

Funny how I'd been feeling not so well lately, sort of uneasy. It wasn't the flu and it wasn't anything that a fellow could just put his finger on. It sort of had me...
puzzled until today, when one of the teachers brought a new seed catalog to show me. Then it dawned on me that we hadn't gotten a single one yet. Here I've been hankering for a bunch of gayly bedecked seed catalogs to rub out the memory of those nasty books I told you about last week. I tell you a fellow doesn't need to carry them home wrapped in brown paper for fear the neighbors will see what you have. How proudly I'll carry them out of the post office. You can bet that I'll buttonhole every single acquaintance who will listen and show him my catalogs. How eagerly Helen and David and Martha will reach for them when I bring them into the kitchen. Then we'll hurry through the evening meal and fix the open fire so that we can sit in front of it and look them over. We'll talk about where we'll put this and what variety of that we'll plant and maybe even get out the order blank and send it on its way. In a little while we're far away marking out rows, spreading fertilizer, dropping the corn and beans and pumpkin seeds. Then in a few days they are breaking through the ground and summer is on full blast and we are all down at the cabin listening to the evening serenade of the whippoorwills or Dean Butler's foxhounds sending one up over the Pinoak, or riding Jake out the ridge road for the sunset view from the hilltop.

Yes, you can get a dandy vacation free from a couple of seed catalogs. Why haven't ours come yet, I wonder. Have you gotten yours, Mary Olson? We'll be seeing you.
